SUSTAINABLE REVIVAL OF HERITAGE BUILDING IN URBAN AREA (SHANGHAI)

Yiwen Song
Third Year M.Arch
SHANGHAI, OLD TOWN
Yuyuan. The Garden of Delight

Street View

Renmin Road Tunnel

Gucheng Park

The Bund Finance Center

Historical Temple Complex

Site
Urban Open Space
Lake
New Construction
Commercial Area
Residential Area
Shanghai Old Street
Main Street
MODELS
Precedents
Tai Kwun Centre for Heritage and Art / Herzog & de Meuron

Rejuvenate Oslo National Theatre Rehabilitation / Dark Arkitekter

Yunxi Shenhui Bookstore/ AZL Architects

On the premise of keeping the historical form of the original building as much as possible, the problem of comfort is solved with modern materials and equipment.

An abandoned cobblestone passage next to it was transformed into a new reception hall. The two buildings are connected intensively, one new and the old, forming a strong contrast.

Keep the original structure and facade with rehabilitating.

The basic pattern and exquisite wood carvings of the traditional Qing Dynasty ancient buildings are completely preserved.

Circulation: Creating urban space for the public, while leading people to the site.

Program:
- Standard Area
- Librarian
- Entrance

Material: Lumber, brick, concrete

Section:
- Original building: Keep the original structure and facade with rehabilitating.
- Interior:
  - The basic pattern and exquisite wood carvings of the traditional Qing Dynasty ancient buildings are completely preserved.
- Landscapes
  - Expansion of the underground space with new programs.
  - Using the idea of using natural elements in the site, creating differentiation elements of the landscape with different heights following the natural form.