TASTING NOTES

As you swirl your glass of 2019 Cabernet Sauvignon, deep purple and blue aromas dance out with notes of pomegranate, blackberries, leather, cassis, macerated cherries, and confectionary spice.

There is a dichotomy of tension and plush richness at the midpalate that provide layers of complexity and incredible length. This is a truly exceptional vintage for Cabernet Sauvignon.

DRINKING WINDOW

The Cabernet Sauvignon is unique this vintage as the blend is 100% Cabernet Sauvignon. The wine is comprised of parcels spanning the valley from the Vaca to Mayacamas mountain ranges, making this a true representation of the potential of Cabernet Sauvignon on the Larkmead Estate.

The conditions of the spring rain, followed by heat in the summer, allowed the grapes to build high concentrations of aromas, flavors and textures that will continue to evolve for decades. This wine can be served now but will age gracefully for the next 15-30 years. If drinking now, serve at cellar temperature and after decanting for two hours.
