

5 best Luxury Wine Tastings in Calistoga

Maya Hill - July 7, 2023

When it comes to wine tasting in Napa Valley, Calistoga offers experiences that are imbued with a rich sense of the region's history.

Located at the northern end of California's Napa Valley, the small city of Calistoga is home to a large number of long-standing wineries that have helped make the region one of the world's most historically important wine-producing areas. These estates are home to incredible grounds, picturesque views, and – most enticingly – extravagant wine tasting experiences. Here's our round-up of the best luxury wine tasting on offer in Calistoga.

Larkmead Vineyards

Originally established in 1895, the family-owned Larkmead Vineyards' Estate Tasting includes a walking tour of the vineyards and winery, focusing on the family's sustainable growing methods and long history in Napa Valley. Following the tour, guests sample one of the vineyard's limited-production white wines, before moving on to four red wines, including prestigious library selections and complemented by a light selection of cheese and charcuterie. There'll also be ample opportunity to enjoy the scenic grounds, amble around the vineyards and pollinator gardens, and take in the panoramic vistas. From $125 per person.
