Q. How long have you been in the travel industry and how did you get started?

A. I have been in the industry for approximately 30 years. Oddly, I got my start when I was hired by my own travel agent. She suggested that I work for her, because of my own vacation experience.

Q. With that said, what do you consider to be your area of expertise in the industry?

A. I have extensive knowledge of the Caribbean, Mexico and Hawaii, along with most honeymoon and wedding destinations. When it comes to other destinations, I have great relationships with some of the top tour operators in the industry. In addition, I also confer with my associates within all our branches who have first-hand knowledge of many countries. For example, one of my associates has been to over 100 countries.

Q. You are the “land expert” whereas Jean Mallory is the “cruise expert”. How do you find this working relationship?

A. As you said, I have more experience with land and Jean certainly has more experience with cruise products. However, we seem to be feeding off of each other’s expertise for the benefit of the client, making what some would call a “perfect blend”.

Q. Is there a tour company that you would consider tops, or that you like to work with best?

A. There are a vast number of tour operators that I depend on, based on the destinations, clients desire and of course budget. However, I do have my favorites.
