U.S citizens taking a “closed - loop” cruises (sailings that both originate and terminate in the same US port) are not required to have a passport, but will need to have a certified copy of birth certificate(long version), a certificate of naturalization, or a passport card. In addition, you will also need a valid (not expired) government issued picture ID such as a driver’s license. The birth certificate will have a raised seal, emblem or water mark signifying that it is a certified copy.

A passport is still recommended in case of an emergency (you would not be able to fly home in case of an emergency). If you use a passport, you will not need any additional forms of identification.

Women who have been married or divorced will also need documentation reflecting name difference between birth certificate and identification card.
