Conference Description

This one day in-depth conference with optional pre-conference dinner and pharmacology program is designed to provide continuing education benefits to attendees through 50 minute presentations by APRN providers. In addition to the formal podium presentations there will be poster presentations and an opportunity to network and visit vendor booths and shop a silent auction.

Program-Objectives

1. Define contemporary clinical practice guidelines in the treatment of selected diseases and conditions.
2. Apply evidence base guidelines of both acute and chronic health issues for individuals and populations.
3. Review up-to-date guidelines for the well and pregnant female.
4. Discuss current anesthesia best practices.
5. Update current pharmacological and non-pharmacological therapies in selected illness and populations.
6. Discuss emerging roles for the DNP.

Target Audience

This conference is designed to meet the clinical education needs of advanced practice nurses and students in all four roles: CNM, CRNA, CNS, CNP as well as other nurses and interested healthcare professions.
