

Agricultural Medicine:

Occupational and Environmental Health for Rural Health Professionals

A Building Capacity Course from the NIOSH-funded Great Plains Center for Agricultural Health

Six 90 Minute Weekly Webinars

September 16 through October 21, 2015
Wednesdays 3:00 – 4:30 (EST)

COST FOR WEBINARS ONLY = $200

Register until August 21, 2015

4½ Days On-site Training

September 11, 2015

October 27-30, 2015

Middlebury Inn, Middlebury, Vermont

COST FOR FULL TRAINING = $800

Includes webinars and on-site training, course materials, and certification. Three meals a day at Middlebury Inn included. Overnight lodging costs are additional with scholarships available.

This comprehensive interdisciplinary training is designed for Primary Care and Emergency Services practitioners, Chiropractors, EMTs, Pharmacists, Physical Therapists, Social Workers, Behavioral Health clinicians, Public Health and Department of Labor specialists, Veterinarians, and other Agricultural Professionals serving rural areas. The 40 academic and practicing faculty will come from Vermont, Iowa, New Hampshire, New York and North Carolina. Post-training certification is available through the University of Iowa Center for Agricultural Safety and Health.

Training Topics include:

Acute Agricultural Injuries
Zoonotic Disease
Environmental Issues and Climate Change
Vector Borne Diseases
Respiratory Diseases
Agricultural Pesticides
Behavioral Health Issues
Musculoskeletal Conditions & Agricultural Ergonomics

Cancer in Agricultural Populations
Agricultural Skin Diseases
Oral Health Issues
Rural Pharmacy Issues
Child Development and Safety Issues
Geriatric Health and Safety Issues
Tools for Integrating Occupational Health into Established Health Care Practices

Registration:

Registration form and payment information on website –
www.cvahec.org

Late registration fee after August 21, 2015

For more information:

Email: mhorton@cvahec.org
Call: (802) 527-1474

Augmenting Existing Primary Care and Emergency Services in Rural Practices and Hospitals

Agricultural Medicine:

Occupational and Environmental Health for Rural Health Professionals

CHANGING THE FACE OF RURAL HEALTH SERVICES FOR NEW ENGLAND FARM FAMILIES

First Day of Course on-site

Middlebury Inn, Middlebury, Vermont, September 11, 2015

Six 1½ Hour Weekly Webinars

September 17, 2015 through October 21, 2015

Final 3½ Training Days on-site

Middlebury Inn, Middlebury, Vermont

October 27, 2015 through noon October 30, 2015

Professional Continuing Education Credits will be Available

Enrollment Deadline: August 21, 2015

Sponsored by the Vermont Farm Health Task Force

VT Farm Health Task Force
c/o CVAHEC
92 Fairfield St.
St. Albans, VT 05478

