Program Description

This one-day conference is intended to update the advanced practice nurse with topics of interest to current practice. Leading edge topics such Technologically-Enhanced Health Promotion, preventive medicine, and updates on a variety of topics will be covered.

Optional intensive sessions will include basic suturing and wound care, joint and soft tissue injections, and 12-lead EKG interpretation.

Course Objectives

To provide current clinical information to enhance the knowledge and skills of the practice of APRNs in family, acute, adult, and women's health practices.

To increase education in order to provide evidence-based and patient centered care in order to promote positive outcomes within the healthcare environment.

To identify new pharmacologic and non-pharmacologic treatment options for NP practice.

To provide hands on skills enhancement for advanced practice settings.

To provide a forum for local APRN networking.

This program will be submitted to the American Association of Nurse Practitioners.
