1. IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Evercore respects your privacy and is committed to protecting your personal information.

This privacy notice describes how we collect and use personal information about you during and after your relationship with us, in accordance with applicable laws.

It applies to Evercore’s business contacts, suppliers and professional advisors, parties with whom Evercore conducts business (including clients, counterparties and potential clients and counterparties) and investors and any associated individuals. Evercore Inc. is responsible for this website. This website is not intended for children and we do not knowingly collect data relating to children.

The Evercore Group is made up of different legal entities, details of which can be found in the exhibits to Evercore Inc.’s latest 10-K filing which can be found here. This privacy notice is issued on behalf of the Evercore Group so when we mention “Evercore”, “we”, “us” or “our” in this privacy notice, we are referring to the relevant company in the Evercore Group responsible for processing personal information relating to you.

This notice applies to Evercore’s business contacts, suppliers and professional advisors, parties with whom Evercore conducts business (including clients, counterparties and potential clients and counterparties) and investors and any associated individuals. This notice does not form part of any contract of services.

It is important that you read this notice, together with any other privacy notice we may provide on specific occasions when we are collecting or processing personal information about you, so that you are aware of how and why we are using such information.

We reserve the right to update this privacy notice at any time. If we make any changes, we will post the updated notice here and change the date at the top of this webpage, accordingly, we encourage you to periodically review this page to learn about any such updates.

2. PERSONAL INFORMATION WE HOLD ABOUT YOU AND PURPOSES FOR WHICH WE USE IT

Personal information, means any information about an individual from which that person can be identified. It does not include data where the identity has been removed (anonymous data).

There are more sensitive types of personal information which require a higher level of protection under certain applicable laws. We do not collect such more sensitive information about you except for information about religious beliefs in the context of dietary requirements and, where applicable, health information in the event that we have to give you first aid on site for events and meetings that you voluntarily provide to us. Nor do we collect any information about criminal convictions and offences unless revealed by due diligence conducted to comply with a legal obligation or given to us in connection with our role, or potential role, as financial adviser in connection with a transaction, in order to comply with a legal obligation.

We may process your personal information without your knowledge or consent, where this is required or permitted by law.

Please click on the relevant section to see the categories of personal information about you that we collect, store, and use, and the purposes of processing.

- Visitors to Evercore’s website

When you visit our website the server will record your IP address together with the date, time and duration of your visit. An IP address is an assigned number, similar to a telephone number, which allows your computer to communicate over the Internet. In addition to your IP address the following technical information will also be collected: your login information, browser type and version, time zone setting, browser plug-in types and versions, operating system and platform, information about your visit including the full Uniform Resource Locators (URL), clickstream to, through and from the website (including date and time), pages viewed, download errors, page interaction information (such as scrolling clicks) and methods used to browse away from the website.

You are not required to provide any other personal information to access public areas of our website.

Some browsers may transmit “do-not-track” (“DNT”) signals to websites with which the user communicates. We currently do not change our tracking practices in response to DNT settings in your browser. Our third-party analytics providers may collect information about your online activities over time and across websites.

Evercore’s cookie policy can be found here.

• Visitors to Evercore’s offices

When you visit our offices, we collect the following personal information about you for the following purposes:

1. images (but not sound or facial recognition) of you in public areas from CCTV footage in line with our legitimate interests (security of the building);
2. your location while at Evercore’s offices through access key card monitoring and in order to comply with legal obligations (financial services regulations);
3. contact information by completion of the visitor guest list in line with our legitimate interests (security of the building);
4. if applicable, health information by completion of the first aid accident book in order to comply with legal obligations (health and safety) and data to assist in the control of infectious diseases, such as the virus Covid-19, including temperature checks; and
5. names and dietary preferences for catering purposes in meetings in line with our legitimate interests (respecting visitors’ needs).
• Our business contacts

If you have had contact with Evercore, for example through emailing us or meeting a representative of Evercore, we collect, use and store limited amounts of personal information relating to you, such as your name, job title, employer organisation and contact details. We also use publicly available information about you or information you have provided us with to add to Evercore’s contact database.

We will collect and store this personal information for the purposes of:

1. maintaining a record of contacts;
2. providing periodic business updates as described below;
3. organising meetings between you and your Evercore representatives; and
4. sending you periodic updates about Evercore’s business, activities and opportunities, in particular, by email and post; you can opt out of receiving updates at any by asking your Evercore business contact to remove you from updates.

We will share the personal information we hold about business contacts with:

1. companies which process personal information on Evercore’s behalf;
2. professional advisors, such as accountants, lawyers or other consultants;
3. other companies in the Evercore Group, including in the United States;
4. Evercore’s auditors; and
5. applicable regulators and other governmental agencies anywhere in the world.

• Our suppliers and professional advisers

If you are an individual associated with a supplier to Evercore, or with one of our professional advisers, we will collect, use and store limited amounts of personal information relating to you, including your name, job title, qualifications, employer or parent organisation and contact details. We will collect, use and store this personal information for the purposes of administering and maintaining records of services or advice we have received, and commissioning further services.

The personal information we hold about individuals associated with our suppliers and professional advisers will be shared with:

1. companies which process personal information on Evercore’s behalf;
2. professional advisors, such as accountants, lawyers or other consultants;
3. other companies in the Evercore Group, including in the United States;
4. Evercore’s auditors; and
5. applicable regulators and other governmental agencies anywhere in the world.

- Parties with whom we conduct business (including clients, counterparties and potential clients and counterparties)

If you are involved in a transaction or potential transaction that Evercore advises on, we collect, use and store personal information relating to you. To the extent appropriate, this includes your business and personal contact details, interests/marketing preferences, professional opinions and judgements, visual images and photographs required for business purposes, log-in details for user accounts, information relating to your financial status and dealings, nationality information (including copies of identity documents, such as a passport), references provided by third parties, and results of other due diligence carried out.

We collect, process and store this personal information for the purposes of:

1. conducting “know-your customer” and other due diligence pursuant to applicable anti-money laundering and anti-corruption laws and regulations and Evercore’s related policies and procedures;
2. assessing your suitability as our client, including by verifying your identity;
3. advising on potential transactions and transactions;
4. administering any transaction that we enter into;
5. providing a range of financial services;
6. statistical analysis and market research;
7. maintaining records of investments;
8. billing and invoicing purposes;
9. complying with our regulatory and legal obligations, including assessing and managing risk;
10. identifying and preventing fraud and other unlawful activity;
11. safeguarding our legal rights and interests;
12. seeking and receiving advice from our professional advisors, including accountants, lawyers and other consultants;
13. organising and holding meetings and events; and
14. sending you periodic updates about Evercore’s business, activities and opportunities, in particular, by email and post; you can opt out of receiving updates at any time by asking your Evercore contact to remove you from such updates.

The personal information we collect, use and store about individuals associated with our clients, counterparties and potential clients and counterparties with whom we conduct business may be shared with:

1. companies which process personal information on Client’s behalf;
2. credit reference agencies;
3. financial intermediaries;
4. professional advisors, such as accountants, lawyers or other consultants;
5. other persons who have an interest or involvement in, or who are considering an interest or involvement in, a transaction upon which Evercore is advising, including co-investors, other providers of finance and investors in Evercore;
6. other companies in the Evercore group in the United States;
7. Evercore’s auditors; and
8. applicable regulators and other governmental agencies anywhere in the world.

- Our investors

We collect, use and store personal information about our investors for the purposes of:

1. complying with our regulatory and legal obligations;
2. communicating with investors (including the mailing, in physical or electronic format, of Annual Reports, AGM or EGM notices or proxy cards, or communications in relation to other corporate actions);
3. facilitating the payment of dividends; and
4. sending you periodic updates about Evercore’s business, activities and opportunities, in particular, by email and post; you can opt out of receiving updates at any time by asking your Evercore contact to remove you from such updates.

We share the personal information we hold about our investors with:

1. companies which process personal information on Evercore’s behalf;
2. professional advisors, such as accountants, lawyers, proxy advisers or other consultants;
3. other companies in the Evercore group worldwide;
4. Evercore’s auditors; and
5. applicable regulators and other governmental agencies anywhere in the world.

- If you fail to provide personal information

If you do not provide certain information when requested, we may not be able to perform the contract we have entered into with you (such as advising on a particular transaction), or we may be prevented from complying with our legal obligations (such as to perform client due diligence).

3. DATA SHARING
We share your personal information with third parties as described above and only as necessary, including third-party service providers and other entities in the Evercore Group, as necessary to fulfil our legal obligations and operational business purposes.

We require third parties to respect the security of your personal information and to treat it in accordance with the law.

- How secure is your personal information with third-party service providers and other entities in our group?

  All our third-party service providers and other companies in the Evercore Group are required to take appropriate security measures to protect your personal information. Except where needed for their own direct relationship with you, we generally do not allow our third-party service providers to use your personal information for their own purposes and we only permit them to process your personal information for specified purposes and in accordance with our instructions.

- When do we share your personal information with other entities in the Evercore group?

  We will share your personal information with other companies in the Evercore Group for internal administrative purposes.

- When do we share your personal information with any other third parties?

  We may share your personal information with other third parties, for example in the context of the possible sale or restructuring of the business. If needed to comply with law and regulations, we will also need to share your personal information with a regulator, governmental agency or otherwise.

4. DATA SECURITY
We have put in place appropriate measures to protect the security of your personal information.

Third parties will only process your personal information where they have agreed to treat the personal information confidentially and to keep it secure.

We have put in place appropriate security measures designed to prevent your personal information from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal information to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to access it.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected data security breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator of a suspected breach where we are legally required to do so.

5. DATA RETENTION

How long will you use my information for?

We will only retain your personal information for as long as necessary to fulfil the purposes we collected it for, including for the purposes of satisfying any legal, accounting, or reporting requirements. To determine the appropriate retention period for personal information, we consider the amount, nature, and sensitivity of the personal information, the potential risk of harm from unauthorised use or disclosure of your personal information, the purposes for which we process your personal information and whether we can achieve those purposes through other means, and the applicable legal requirements.

In some circumstances we may anonymise your personal information so that it can no longer be associated with you, in which case we may use such information without further notice to you. Once you are no longer a business contact, supplier, professional advisor, counterparty with whom Evercore conducts business (including client) or an investor of Evercore we will retain and securely destroy your personal information in accordance with our data retention policy.

6. IF YOU ARE LOCATED IN THE UNITED KINGDOM OR EUROPE
Please click here for important information about how we handled your personal information if you are located in the United Kingdom or the European Union.

We will comply with applicable data protection law. This says that the personal information we hold about you must be:

1. used lawfully, fairly and in a transparent way;
2. collected only for valid purposes that we have clearly explained to you and not used in any way that is incompatible with those purposes;
3. relevant to the purposes we have told you about and limited only to those purposes;
4. accurate and to the extent appropriate, kept up to date;
5. kept only as long as necessary for the purposes we have told you about; and
6. kept securely.

For the purposes of applicable data protection law, the Evercore company that you have dealings with is the controller of your personal information. This means that we are responsible for deciding how we hold and use personal information about you. We are required under applicable data protection law to notify you of the information contained in this privacy notice.

Please click here for information about the lawful basis that Evercore relies on when using your personal information.

We will only use your personal information when the law allows us to. Most commonly, we will use your personal information in the following circumstances (each a lawful basis):

1. where we need to perform the contract we are about to enter into or have entered into with you;
2. where it is necessary for our legitimate interests and your interests and fundamental rights do not override those interests; or
3. where we need to comply with a legal or regulatory obligation.

Generally, we do not rely on consent as a legal basis for processing your personal information.

We will only use your personal information for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your personal information for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the legal basis which allows us to do so.

Please click here for information about how Evercore shares your personal information with third parties.

We will share your personal information with third parties where required by law, where it is necessary to administer our relationship with you or where we have another legitimate interest in doing so. “Third parties” includes third-party service providers (including contractors) and other entities within the Evercore group worldwide.

The following activities are carried out by the following categories of third-party service providers in the following locations:

1. Telephone and video conferencing, including in the United States;
2. Recording telephone calls and emails for compliance purposes, including in the United States and Canada;
3. Contact database management;
4. Hosting and/or participating in client data rooms by various providers, potentially including in the United States;
5. Marketing communications, including by Evercore Group in the United States;
6. Research services client management, including in the United States;
7. Communication, including in the United States; and
8. Meeting catering purposes.

Please click here for information about how Evercore transfers your personal information outside of the United Kingdom or Europe.

We share your personal information within the Evercore Group. This will involve transferring your data outside the United Kingdom (UK) and the European Economic Area (EEA).
Many of our third-party service providers are based outside the UK and the EEA so their processing of your personal information will involve a transfer of data outside the UK and the EEA.

Whenever we transfer your personal information out of the UK and the EEA, we ensure a similar degree of protection is afforded to it by implementing at least one of the following safeguards:

1. We will transfer your personal information to countries that have been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal information by the European Commission and the UK Government as applicable. For further details, see European Commission: Adequacy of the protection of personal data in non-EU countries and Receiving personal data from the EU/EEA and third countries which have EU adequacy decisions.

2. We use specific contracts approved by the European Commission and the UK Government which give personal information equivalent protection to that in the UK and EEA. For further details, see European Commission: Model contracts for the transfer of personal data to third countries and UK: Standard Contractual Clauses.

3. Where we use third-party service providers based in the US, we may transfer data to them if they are part of any future Privacy Shield type scheme which requires them to provide similar protection to personal information shared between the Europe and the US, as and when this is approved by the US and the EU. For further details, see European Commission: EU-US Data Transfers.

Please contact us at dataprotectioneurope@evercore.com if you would like further information on the specific mechanism used by us when transferring your personal information out of the UK or the EEA.

7. IF YOU ARE LOCATED IN THE DIFC

Evercore is providing the following information for individuals whose personal information is collected or held by Evercore Advisory (Middle East) Limited, which is the controller of your personal information and so responsible for this privacy notice.
Where you are such an individual:

- Evercore Advisory (Middle East) Limited is registered in the Dubai International Finance Centre (DIFC) with a DIFC registered number 2478 and with its registered office at Unit 202, 203A & 204A, Level 2, Gate Village Building 10, DIFC, Dubai, 507204, United Arab Emirates.
- The processing of your personal data by Evercore Advisory (Middle East) Limited is governed by the DIFC Data Protection Law, No.5 of 2020.
- It is likely that personal information about you will be collected, held and transferred outside of the DIFC, including in and to countries within the UK or the EEA. It may also be disclosed to persons in other countries in the circumstances described in this privacy notice.
- We will take all reasonable legal, technical and organisational measures to ensure that if your personal information is transferred outside of the DIFC, it will be treated securely and with an adequate level of protection compared to the level of protection offered in the DIFC. In particular, transfers of personal data outside of the DIFC will take place only where the transfer of this information is subject to a written agreement in line with the requirements of the DIFC data protection law.
- You have the right to make a complaint at any time to the Commissioner of Data Protection in the DIFC (Commissioner) at any time (Tel: +971 (0)4 362 2222 or at commissioner@dp.difc.ae). We would, however, appreciate the chance to deal with your concerns before you approach the Commissioner so please contact us in the first instance at privacy@evercore.com.

8. IF YOU ARE A CALIFORNIA RESIDENT

Pursuant to the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (“CCPA”), the information set out at section 2 above and in the following paragraph describes the categories of personal information that we have collected or disclosed within the preceding 12 months and the purposes for which it is used, about California residents who are not employees, independent contractors, owners, directors, officers, or job applicants of Evercore, or emergency contacts or benefits beneficiaries of the foregoing.

We collected the following categories of personal information from individuals, as necessary to fulfill our legal obligations and operational business purposes:
A. Personal information, as defined in the California customer records law, such as contact information and financial information;

B. Identifiers, such as name, online identifier, IP address, and government-issued identifier (e.g., Social Security number);

C. Characteristics of protected classifications under California or federal law, such as sex, age, national origin, citizenship, immigration status and marital status;

D. Commercial information, such as transaction information and history and securities trading information and history;

E. Internet or network activity information, such as browsing history and interactions with our and other websites and systems including the ISI portal and Investor Relations webpage;

F. Geolocation data, such as device location and IP location;

G. Audio, electronic, visual and similar information, such as video recordings created in connection with our business activities;

H. Professional or employment-related information, such as work history, prior employer, and information relating to references; and

I. Inferences drawn from any of the personal information listed above to create a profile or summary about, for example, an individual’s preferences and characteristics.

In the preceding 12 months, we disclosed personal information to our service providers and third parties (such as our professional advisors, companies who process Personal Information on an individual’s employer’s behalf, credit reference agencies, financial intermediaries, other persons who have (or who are considering) an interest in Evercore or involvement in a transaction about which Evercore is advising, our auditors, providers of internet-connected devices and associated software, governmental authorities and third parties involved in court action, and our business partners) as set out in section 3 (Data Sharing) above and as follows:

A. Personal information, as defined in the California customer records law, such as contact information and financial information;

B. Identifiers, such as name, online identifier, IP address, and government-issued identifier (e.g., Social Security number);
C. Characteristics of protected classifications under California or federal law, such as sex, age, national origin, citizenship, immigration status and marital status;

D. Commercial information, such as transaction information and history and securities trading information and history;

E. Internet or network activity information, such as browsing history and interactions with our and other websites and systems including the ISI portal and Investor Relations webpage;

F. Geolocation data, such as device location and IP location;

G. Audio, electronic, visual and similar information, such as video recordings created in connection with our business activities; and

H. Professional or employment-related information, such as work history, prior employer, and information relating to references.

We collected this personal information from individuals directly and from other categories of sources: publicly available databases, employers of individuals, our business partners, and our transaction and commission-sharing counterparties, when they share the information with us.

We have not “sold” personal information as defined by the CCPA. For this purpose, “sold” or “sale” means the disclosure of personal information for monetary or other valuable consideration but does not include, for example, the transfer of personal information as an asset that is part of a merger, bankruptcy, or other disposition of all or any portion of our business.

9. YOUR RIGHTS IN RELATION TO YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

Under certain circumstances, you may have rights in relation to your personal information. For detail of some rights which apply, please click below as relevant.

Your duty to inform us of changes

It is important that the personal information we hold about you is accurate and current. Please keep us informed if your personal information changes during your relationship with us.
If you are located in the United Kingdom or the European Union, please click here.

Under certain circumstances, under applicable data protection law, you have the right to:

- Request access to your personal information (commonly known as a “data subject access request”). This enables you to receive a copy of the personal information we hold about you and to check that we are lawfully processing it.

- Request correction of the personal information that we hold about you. This enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about you corrected.

- Request erasure of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal information where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. You also have the right to ask us to delete or remove your personal information where you have exercised your right to object to processing (see below).

- Object to processing of your personal information where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) and there is something about your particular situation which makes you want to object to processing on this ground. You also have the right to object where we are processing your personal information for direct marketing purposes.

- Request the restriction of processing of your personal information. This enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of personal information about you, for example if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it.

- Request the transfer of your personal information to another party.

If you want to review, verify, correct or request erasure of your personal information, object to the processing of your personal information, or request that we transfer a copy of your personal information to another party, please contact us.

No fee usually required

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal information (or to exercise any of the other rights). However, we may charge a reasonable fee if your request for access is clearly unfounded or excessive. Alternatively, we may refuse to comply with the request in such circumstances.

What we may need from you

We may need to request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and ensure your right to access the information (or to exercise any of your other rights). This is another appropriate security measure to ensure that personal information is not disclosed to any person who has no right to receive it.

Your right to withdraw consent

In the limited circumstances where you may have provided your consent to the collection, processing and transfer of your personal information for a specific purpose, you have the right to withdraw your consent for that specific processing at any time. To withdraw your consent, please contact us at DataProtectionUKandEurope@evercore.com. Once we have received notification that you have withdrawn your consent, we will no longer process your information for the purpose or purposes you originally agreed to, unless we have another legitimate basis for doing so in law.

If you are a California resident, please click here.

If you are a California resident, you have the right to request that we disclose what information we collect, use, disclose and sell. Specifically, you may request that we:

(1) Disclose to you the following information covering the 12 months preceding your request:

- The categories of personal information we collected about you and the categories of sources from which we collected such Personal Information;
- The specific pieces of personal information we collected about you;
- The business or commercial purpose for collecting (if applicable) personal information about you; and
- The categories of personal information about you that we otherwise shared or disclosed, and the categories of third parties with whom we shared or to whom we disclosed such personal information (if applicable).

(2) Delete Personal Information we collected from you.

We will respond to your request consistent with applicable law. Nonetheless, you have the right to be free from unlawful discrimination for exercising your rights under the CCPA.

How to Make Requests

If you are a California resident, you may make a request for the disclosures described above or make a request to delete personal information we collected from you, by contacting us at:

(1) Web Request Form – linked here
(2) Toll-Free Number: 1-877-993-2673

You must provide us with enough information that we can verify your identity and that you are a California resident. If you designate an authorized agent to make an access or deletion request on your behalf, we may require the agent to show written authorization from you and require you to verify your identity with us.

If you are located in Canada, please click here.

ACCESSING AND CORRECTING YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

By law you have the right to request access to and to correct the personal information that we hold about you. If you want to review, verify, correct, or withdraw consent to the use of your personal information you may also send us an email at privacy@evercore.com to request access to, correct, or delete any personal information that you have provided to us. We may not accommodate a request to change information if we believe the change would violate any law or legal requirement or cause the information to be incorrect.

We may request specific information from you to help us confirm your identity and your right to access, and to provide you with the personal information that we hold about you or make your requested changes. Applicable law may allow or require us to refuse to provide you with access to some or all of the personal information that we hold about you, or we may have destroyed, erased, or made your personal information anonymous in accordance with our record retention obligations and practices. If we cannot provide you with access to your personal information, we will inform you of the reasons why, subject to any legal or regulatory restrictions.

If you are concerned about our response or would like to correct the information provided, you may contact us (see section 10 below).
