FMyBoss Show Some Balls. Give him Hell.

Most of us have a boss that never fails to piss us off or treat us like crap. You know what, "F" him! (or her--we're equal opportunity here). Surely, this guy must be running for the "douchebag of the year" award.

Ranting to friends and family is nice but not quite satisfying enough, so we had an idea that disgruntled employees everywhere could blow off some steam by sharing stories of their horrible bosses. We could collect those stories and create a community where other disgruntled employees could read and discuss them. In the process, we could all have a good laugh and relieve some stress.

Bosses give you hell all week long. Now, it's your turn. Tell us what your boss did, and we'll put him (or her) up on our wall of shame for the whole World Wide Web to see. Trust us, you're not alone. Go ahead. Rant it out. Give him hell!

Anonymity They'll Never Know it was You.

Let your boss have it in a totally healthy, non-job-threatening way. You can tell us your story without telling us your identity. We provide absolute anonymity for those who seek it. Just hit the "Next" button below. And for those who could give-a-crap less, login with Facebook to prove your identity.

F*** My Boss Because...

Taking your credit, giving you his work, penalizing you for the smallest things--the list of bastard-boss offenses could go on forever. Let's hear your story. Tell us in 500 characters why your boss is such a monumental douche lord. "Take some initiative," your boss says. Alright, you'll show him "initiative," right here!

Who is your boss?

Now, for the really satisfying part! We highly recommend that you tell us who your boss is; otherwise, all this would mean nothing. Once we receive your submission, we'll set up a separate page on our domain just for him where people can vote on your story and leave comments. Not quite the "douchebag of the year" award, but it's a close second. Oh, we're serious about this, my friend. Are you?

Approval and Notification

Awesome! You're on your way to "F"ing your boss. Wait, that didn't come out right. That's another website entirely! Ah, well, you know what we mean. Once you submit your story, all that's left is for us to approve it. We only need your email address to notify you that your story has been approved and to provide a link once it goes live. Your email address will never be shared or displayed. Please have a look at our privacy policy.
