

Guitar-Neck Belt Buckles, by Gorilla Vinyl

We mentioned Gorilla Vinyl's recycled vinyl wallets previously, but we can't bear to overlook their recycled guitar-neck belt buckles. These are made from the fretboards of reclaimed guitars, ranging from a Fender Telecaster to a Gibson Les Paul. The frets, inlays, and fingerboard are polished without taking away from the appearance of having been used well.

Each buckle is one-of-a-kind, and sells for about £62. A portion of each purchase made on from Gorilla Vinyl website goes towards the World Wildlife Fund.

Find out more from the website.