

We may not think it but us Aussie's are lucky! More beaches than we know what to do with, great surf spots and amazing cities with lots to offer. But have you ever felt like something is missing? You constantly dream of adventure and you yearn to see what the world has to offer. Are you a thrill seeker or looking to spice up your life a little? Then escape your comfort zone and take the plunge to visit amazing South Africa and prepare to be awed.

5 reasons to visit South Africa

Like you needed anymore convincing...

1. Cheap eats

Discover some of the world's best foodie markets and inspiring restaurants that combine local flavours with international trends, all served up with the most welcoming South Africa hospitality. SA have also jumped on the coffee hype, delivering some beautiful blends using real coffee beans brewed by baristas at hip and trendy coffee places to grab your morning fuel from.

2. Road trippin'

The roads in South Africa are really good! The highways are really well built and the dirt tracks are also easy to drive when you have a sturdy 4x4. Just get in the car and drive, explore and see what this beautiful nation has to offer.

3. Wine!

Now you're talking. That bottle of South African red your Aunt pulls out at special occasions just got a lot less exclusive. Your taste buds will be overwhelmed with the amount of fantastic wines that South Africa has to offer. The Winelands are a just a one hour drive from Cape Town, making it the perfect destination for a short road trip. This area of South Africa is one of the most varied regions in the world, so even if you prefer beer, the drive itself is pretty spectacular.

4. Local people

Local people here in South Africa are very polite, welcoming and always have a huge smile on their faces. Don't be afraid to strike up a conversation with a local, more often than not they'll be happy to discuss their beautiful country with you.

5. Drive through a game reserve

South African landscape is very diverse and never repetitive especially when you go off the beaten track. There is no photograph that will ever define the overwhelming emotion you experience when you are just metres away from an elephant, lion or leopard in its natural habitat. Take your time and soak up the atmosphere in one of the world's most desired Safari destinations.

Why rent a 4x4?

Self-driving is the only way to truly discover South Africa. Reliable 4x4's are ideal for the rugged environment and most routes require a robust vehicle to tackle the terrain. Have you ever dreamt of driving through the national parks of Namibia, taking in the stunning views of the landscape and watching the wildlife in their natural habitat? Whether you decide to travel to Skeleton Coast to observe washed-up shipwrecks on its glistening beaches or you opt to visit Bwabwata to follow elephant and buffalo migration routes, Namibia has something for everyone.

Driving a 4x4 will allow you the freedom to explore these vast landscapes at your own pace. Each vehicle is equipped with two, two person tents with built in mosquito nets and all of the camping gear you will need! Whether you're craving to spot the Big 5 or river rafting and hiking in the bush is more your style, you will have the flexibility to structure your trip to your desires.
