

Beer Paws

'For the love of good times with good dogs'

For all the best in dog gear, dog beer, and really healthy dog-treat-cheer, head to Beer Paws, a Missouri native business with serious canine know-how!

Opened in 2013 by Crystal Wiebe, Beer Paws started as a simple idea to create a bottle opener on a dog collar, an idea that grew into a business full of various beer-themed dog gear and treats! Beer Paws makes Dog Beer Biscuits in flavors such as Peanut Butter, Pumpkin Spice, and Beet and Mint, each flavor made with local brewer's spent grains. Of course, there is also the famed dog beer, the brew 'potent in a good way... but alcohol-free!' The grains used for the process come from 50+ commercial breweries from the Midwest and beyond, (from the KC original Yoga Pants to big name brand Boulevard Brewing Company.) (Maybe take out)

(Crystal and her Beer Paws team attend events each weekend throughout the year, from local gatherings such as Lee's Summit's Oktoberfest to big events such as the annual Great American Beer Fest.) (Maybe take out)

Crystal's favorite part of running this business? 'As a crazy dog lady and craft beer lover, it's nice to bring the two worlds together in a fun, healthy way.'

Did we mention the best part? 10% of the profits received go to local animal welfare groups such as shelters and rescue agencies.

While there is no permanent storefront, you can find any of the many locations supporting Beer Paws here, <https://www.beerpaws.com/apps/store-locator>, or head to any of the upcoming scheduled events.
