Common Interview Questions

LESSON 1*2/4

Common (or traditional) interview questions are the type of questions your interviewer will ask to get an understanding of who you are.

LESSON 1

3/4

The purpose of these questions is to learn about your work style and personality.

LESSON 1

4/4

Keeping this in mind, think of these types of questions as opportunities to shine, and to show that you would be a good fit for the position and company.

Let's get started!

LESSON 2

1/4

"Why should we hire you?"

LESSON 2

2/4

The “Why should we hire you?” question can take many forms, like “What can you do for this company?” or “What can you offer that someone else can’t?”

The answer might seem obvious to you — you’re the best person for the job! But your interviewer doesn’t know this ... yet.

LESSON 2*3/4

The truth is that this question is a golden opportunity to tell your story. First, tell them you are the best person for the job. Then, explain why by using your research on the company and the job position.

LESSON 2

4/4

Research the company and re-read the job description. Pay attention to what is listed in the Skills and Responsibilities sections to find what the company wants for this role. Use examples from your work experience that match to prove that you're a perfect fit!

LESSON 3

1/4

"Why do you want to work here?"

LESSON 3*2/4

“Why do you want to work here?” seems like an easy question. But don’t let this one fool you. Your answer is an opportunity to show how the company’s needs match your career goals.

LESSON 3*3/4

This question is best answered with company research. Ask yourself: What do you find compelling about the company? How does the role match your interests?
