Character Biography

Character name: Poker Girl Poppy

Brief Bio:

Work hard and play hard is one and the same for Poppy.

She is in her element around a smoky poker table telling jokes and betting big until the sun comes up.

She dropped out of college two credits shy of getting her double degrees in Psychology and Mathematics, but her years of study were not a waste.

She uses her psychology training to "read" her opponents and her card counting skills are prodigy level.

Just try and bluff, she dares you.

Ideal date:

A guy who can hang with her all night at the table.

Many have tried. Only a select few have succeeded.

She's still waiting for one to prove worthy. Will she one day wake up and realize the man she's been searching for is right across the poker table from her?

Favorite Game: Poker, all day and night

Charity Work: Celebrity Poker Tournaments (Poppy plays in celeb poker tournaments and donates her winnings to "Girls who Code")
