Get a taste of Slovenia

Slovenians know you don't need to wait for the festive season to enjoy the country's gastronomic delights. Every day offers a chance to feast on nature's bounty with family and friends.

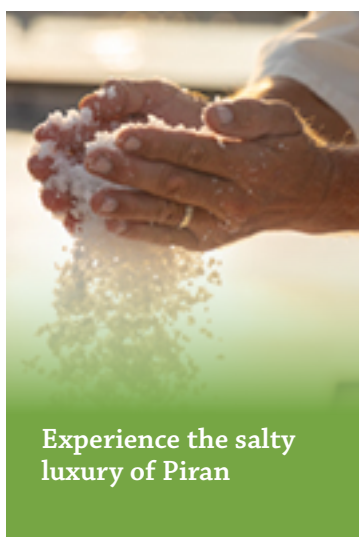

Slovenia is a gourmand's dream. Twenty-four different regions offer sophisticated cuisine sourced from local ingredients—fresh fish from pristine lakes, Alpine cheese, sea salt from the Mediterranean, wine from one of the three wine regions and sweet honey from the many traditional apiaries across the country.

Need proof? Slovenia will be given its own MICHELIN Guide in 2020 and it has also been awarded the title of European Region of Gastronomy 2021.
