Budget team building solutions at your fingertips

Hey there Anneka,

We understand that there's no 'one size fits all' approach when it comes to budget team building activities. There are so many prices, so many options and that's all before adding catering and transport costs. The result? A very expensive headache!

Your perfect team activity, no matter your budget

So that's why we've designed our range of interactive team activities to be flexible and cost-effective, no matter your location or group size. With Wildgoose there's no need to break the bank, we'll work with you to create your perfect event that works with your budget, not against it.

Cost-effective events and icebreakers

Indoor, outdoor or even in remote teams around the world, we've got low-cost solutions covered with a whole host of budget-friendly events and icebreakers (we don't want to blow our own trumpet here but your finance department is going to love us.)

Don't forget we also create custom-made experiences too, all tailored to your objectives and budget options.

Need proof?

We thought you'd never ask! Read about what our happy clients had to say in our Trustpilot reviews below (we're very proud of them.)

Wildgoose is on Trustpilot! Leave us a review

We're very excited to announce that we're now live on Trustpilot with a fantastic score of 4.3 out of 5! We would love to hear about your experiences with us. Good, bad or otherwise, why not leave us a review?
