100 Stays You'll Never Forget

Fueling Your Need for Speed

From the Swiss Alps to Orlando, hotels are orchestrating behind-the-wheel experiences that put guests in the driver's seat. By Kelsey Ogletree

ASPEN, COLORADO

Hotel Jerome, Auberge Resorts Collection, has a custom Lexus LX, with bike racks and fishing-rod carriers, for sporting excursions to the Elk Mountains or the banks of the Roaring Fork River. Doubles from $1,250; driving from $675 per person.

THE SWISS ALPS

Not far from the hairpin bends of Furka Pass—made famous in the James Bond film Goldfinger—the Chedi Andermatt lends guests an iconic Morgan 4/4 roadster for pulse-quickenning drives. Doubles from $1,200; driving $520.

The Chedi Andermatt, in the Swiss Alps, can put you in a Morgan 4/4.

TUSCANY

A 16th-century stone farmhouse turned eight-bedroom estate, Villa Ardore has a vintage Fiat 500 on hand for picturesque forays to area markets and wineries. Villa from $6,540; driving $367.

ORLANDO

Guests who book Club-level accommodations at the Ritz-Carlton, Grande Lakes get free access to a fleet of supercars managed by the high-end rental agency Corsa HQ. Among the options are coupes from Lamborghini and McLaren and sedans from Rolls-Royce. Club doubles from $1,299.

BEVERLY HILLS

As the home of the Golden Globes, the Beverly Hilton leans in to cinematic nostalgia with access to a wide selection of vintage rides—including a 1969 Ford Torino GT convertible and a 1958 Austin-Healey 100-6. Doubles from $495; driving from $1,000.

ATLANTA

The Porsche Icon Suite at the Nobu Hotel is filled with automotive décor, and the property can arrange visits to the city's Porsche Experience Center, where guests can rent a 911 Carrera S. Doubles from $230; driving $720 per person.

OR LEAVE THE DRIVING TO THE EXPERTS

Classic cars are a passion point for the Aonzo family, which runs the Hotel Poseidon Positano, on Italy's Amalfi Coast. Many guests inquire about the owners' mint-condition 1971 Volkswagen Beetle convertible, but beg off driving when they learn it's a stick shift. "Even I can't drive it!" says Liliana Mascolo, a third-generation hotelier. Enter her sister, Margherita, who happily takes guests on half-day driving tours down the twisty seaside lanes to her favorite shops, gelaterie, and limoncello makers. Doubles from $944, with driving included.

ROME
