

Personal Injury Attorney Case Study

A Personal Injury Attorney wanted to get information about how he could help people who had been injured about his firms services as soon as possible after their accident. With Geo-Conquesting we targeted several hospital emergency rooms and we were able show ads people while they were in the waiting room and for several months afterward on their smart phones , tablets personal and even work computers. The ads were able to bring in over 5 new clients in their 3rd month.

The cost of Geo-Conquesting was less than 10% of what they paid on average with traditional PPC advertising.
