Be in the know of what's happening in 2023 in the Principality:

New Openings

Amazonico

The imminent arrival of a chic new restaurant is already causing quite a stir in Monaco. Work is underway at the Café de Paris Monte-Carlo to make space for this newcomer, which has already become a firm favorite in Madrid, London, and Dubai: Amazonico. Luxurious decor, an ever-changing ambiance, a menu full of Latin-American flavor, a sushi bar, a massive rooftop bar, and a stylish, speakeasy-style jazz bar. Potentially the new place to be for the young international jet set. Opening in Q3 2023.

Cafe de Paris

On June 20, 2023, Café de Paris will unveil its transformation. It will be an opportunity for locals and visitors to discover the extensive new offerings from Monte-Carlo Société des Bains de Mer, including an extra floor with a unique rooftop area and a new space devoted to luxury boutiques and other attractive concepts. In the meantime, the Brasserie of the Café de Paris, a hub of Monegasque life for 150 years, will serve guests in the Salle Empire at the Hôtel de Paris Monte-Carlo.

The Maona Monte-Carlo

Monaco's newest evening concept will be a unique venue, a summer cabaret under the stars featuring live music and Monegasque culinary heritage.

Club La Vigie

Pointe de la Vigie will now be the home of a private club from noon to 8 pm. Guests can enjoy an elegant seaside atmosphere and admire the magnificent view of Monaco and the Mediterranean.

Les Ambassadeurs by Christophe Cussac

The new gastronomic restaurant « Les Ambassadeurs by Christophe Cussac » of the Hotel Metropole Monte-Carlo will open in spring 2023.

A story that inspired Chef Christophe Cussac to honour it in his new restaurant. The chef will offer a gourmet contemporary Mediterranean cuisine, inspired by his own gastronomic heritage. This warm setting, designed by Jacques Garcia, is the promise of a moment of sharing, where guests will be invited to rediscover the flavours of the Mediterranean sublimated by the respect of French culinary art.

New Exhibitions

Monet in the Light at the Grimaldi Forum

In honor of the 140th anniversary of Claude Monet's visit to Monaco and the French Riviera, the Grimaldi Forum will be hosting the incredible "Monet en pleine lumière" exhibition curated by Marianne Mathieu. It will feature Monet's works created during his time on the Riviera and will open in July until the beginning of September.

Exciting Events

100th birthday of Prince Rainier III

In commemoration of the centennial birthday of Prince Rainier, Prince Albert II, Princess Caroline, and Princess Stephanie will kick off the celebrations just 48 hours after next year's Formula One Grand Prix, which include a giant party on May 31 with a birthday cake for thousands. The festivities will continue for several months with various events, exhibitions, and tributes to "The Builder-Prince." Concluding in January 2024 with a special edition of the Monte Carlo Circus Festival, an event Rainier personally created and directed for decades.

Monte-Carlo Rolex Master

The event will occur from April 8-16 at Monte-Carlo Country Club. This event, considered one of the most beautiful tournaments in the circuit, expects to receive 15,000 attendees. Tickets are now available for sale as well as VIP village boxes.

Grand Prix celebrates its 80th edition

The Grand Prix is one of our most important events of the year, and in 2023, the celebration will be more significant as we celebrate its 80th edition. We encourage you to book your clients' Grand Prix experiences soon before it sells out.

Things to Know

- The Car Collection Museum of HSH, the Prince of Monaco, relocated to a new venue by the main harbor—a newly renovated space featuring a vast collection of antiques and modern cars owned by the Royal Family.
- Prince's Palace State Apartments reopened its doors to the public: your clients can now visit the Palace's State Apartments and learn about its history and culture.
- The Oceanographic museum continues to host its two-year exhibition designed to reveal the magnificence of the Arctic and Antarctic worlds and raise awareness about their fragility.

Connectivity Updates

- Delta launches a new direct service from Atlanta to Nice.
- United Airlines direct service Newark to Nice, launched in 2022, returns this May.
- Blade returns its helicopter transfer service from Nice to Monaco.

Hot Spots

Gastronomic delights, cocooning spas, romantic getaways, family weekends; it is on this 2 km² that the most eclectic desires come true.

Monte Carlo

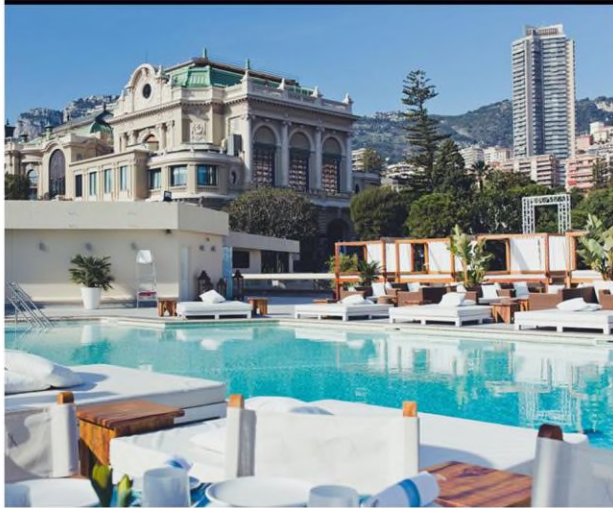

The Casino was built in 1863 and designed around an atrium surrounded by 28 onyx columns. Behind lies the Salle Garnier, an Italian theatre decorated in red and gold, and a veritable miniature replica of Paris' famous opera house, the Palais Garnier. Every season, the most beautiful opera shows take place here. Further on, the gambling rooms are marvelously decorated with stained glass windows, sculptures, and unique allegorical paintings—tours of the Casino last 35 to 40 minutes.

The Palace

The Princely Palace was built in the 18th century and modified during the Renaissance. Guardian of an ancient tradition, with its Italian-style gallery and its 15th-century frescoes, the palace reveals to visitors some of its splendors, such as the Main Courtyard with its 17th-century Carrara marble double staircase, the Hercule Gallery and its delicate 15th-century frescoes running along the blue and gold Louis XVth lounge and the Mazarin room with its multicolored wood-paneling, the York Bedroom and finally the Throne Room with its Renaissance fireplace. The Prince's Palace in Monaco is a private residence, but the State Apartments are open to visitors for part of the year.

Fill your trip with unforgettable moments, from savoring a meal made by great chefs who share their passion and pass on the richness of the land through diverse, exotic cuisine to spending the night in one of the Principality's nightclubs featuring Anglo or South American style décor and live music or DJ sets. Or maybe you want to take a trip to the casinos that have shaped Monaco and forged its legend. Perfectly balanced between tradition and innovation, Monaco offers some of the finest, most luxurious experiences to be found in the world.

Delight

Prestigious hotels, top-of-the-range spas, private beaches or dream pools, cocktails by the water or healthy cuisine, local eateries or Michelin starred restaurants, strolls in lush greenery or by designer stores: a stay in Monaco is always the promise of unforgettable moments in the heart of a destination full of magic, where time stands still.

Romance

What could be better than the intimate and glamorous atmosphere of the Principality for a romantic getaway? Monaco opens its heart to couples for a memorable stay. Between legendary palaces and boutique hotels, gourmet restaurants and lounge bars, strolls in the Old Town or on the shores of the Mediterranean, visitors can enjoy a relaxing break for two and live unique experiences on the mythical Rock of Monaco.

Culture

From January to December, culture is in all its forms in Monaco! Monaco is full of places and cultural events of all kinds, from museums to exhibitions, including operas, concerts, and the Ballets de Monte-Carlo. Visitors will be mesmerized by the inspired and inspiring Principality.

Gourmet

Visitors can savor the finest cuisine in the Principality's best restaurants or charm your palate by tasting some traditional Monegasque specialties. In the country with the world's most extensive hotel wine cellar, home to exceptional vintages, one can partake in some delicacies that few people can access. With several hundred restaurants in an area of 2.2 square kilometers, Monegasque gastronomy is, like the country, a diverse constellation, where there is something for all tastes, all budgets, and especially so that everyone can make their experience their unique one and come back to create new ones.

Wellness

Monaco is an ideal destination for a wellness getaway where visitors can relax around a swimming pool or on the beach, enjoy a treatment in one of the hotel spas, and taste the local products from organic vegetable gardens on the hotel grounds or rooftops of the neighboring buildings. You could also explore the city on foot or by bike. Monaco will surprise travelers with the quality and diversity of its offerings dedicated to well-being.

Shopping

From souvenir shops in Monaco-Ville to renowned brands established in Monte-Carlo, from shopping centers to various shopping arcades going through the pedestrian streets adjacent to the Port Hercule: visitors can treat themselves to an exclusive shopping experience in the Principality. They may also be able to discover the new living space of One Monte-Carlo. Between haute couture, perfumery, and jewelry, the most prominent beauty brands have come together on a unique and secure shopping promenade.

Nightlife

Eclectic is the only way to describe nightlife in Monaco! Visitors can dance until late at night to celebrate a festive evening, sip a signature cocktail on a seaside terrace or by a swimming pool, relax over a locally brewed beer in the city's heart, or enjoy live music with an incredible view underneath the stars. The Principality has several sceneries tucked away, but they all have one key common thing: beautiful settings and iconic locations that create unforgettable evenings!

Gambling

Enter the legend of the casinos that have shaped the Principality since 1863. Monaco's casinos are constantly reinventing themselves, between tradition and innovation, making the country the most desired destination to visit by outstanding players and amateurs. Both can discover the game rooms, the Atrium, and other legendary places in Monte-Carlo amidst breathtaking scenery. Unforgettable memories just waiting to be created.

Vanessa Gonzalez-Hernandez, Visit Monaco's North America Travel Trade Manager

“Monaco is the perfect destination for Canadians”, especially with 300 days of sunshine

Post date: Mar 24 2023

By: Travelweek

Share

Monaco, the world's second-smallest country, packs plenty of charm, beauty and pure wonder into its two square kilometres. In this edition of Take 5, Vanessa Gonzalez-Hernandez, Visit Monaco's North America Travel Trade Manager, tells Travelweek readers all about it.

1. Monaco is one of Europe's true gems. What message do you want to get out to travellers – and travel agents – about this special destination?

“Monaco, the second smallest country, has been an aspirational symbol of luxury and excellence for over 150 years. The Principality, nestled between sea and mountains, offers a myriad of unparalleled experiences. A destination so enchanting that it will encourage travelers to savor every moment of their journey.

“The Principality is a country rich in history, with 700 years under the Grimaldi family dynasty. This is why culture is so ingrained in Monaco's roots, hence is always celebrated. With a varied cultural offering, from art to education exhibitions, impressive museums like the Oceanographic Museum or Royal Highness Car Collection Museum, to being home to legendary landmarks like the Monte-Carlo Casino or The Palace.

“The destination hosts some of the finest cultural offerings from January to December. It is the perfect destination for exceptional events at places like the Opéra de Monte-Carlo, exhibitions at the Grimaldi Forum or the Oceanographic Museum, and performances of The Monte-Carlo Philharmonic Orchestra or the Ballets de Monte-Carlo. The cultural and historical offerings in Monaco are grand.

“Monaco is the place where sport, culture, and entertainment are king. Monaco hosts exciting events like the Tennis Rolex Master, Grand Prix, and The Yacht show, as well as one-of-a-kind events, like the Monte-Carlo Summer Festival, Concerts at the Prince’s Palace, Monte-Carlo Television Festival, Rose Ball, or the Monte-Carlo Jazz Festival. There’s always something happening in Monaco, no matter the time of the year.

“In Monaco, gourmet cuisine is taken seriously, and there are infinite gastronomical possibilities for all ages in our two square kilometre country. Monaco is a country with the most Michelin-starred restaurants per square meter in the world. The destination offers over 170 restaurants throughout the Principality, Michelin-starred restaurants, exotic eateries, sumptuous brunches, fine dining on top-class terraces, local experiences, farm-to-table options, and sustainable and responsible cuisine. Dishes from near and far promise a memorable journey into a land full of flavors.

“One of Monaco’s core values is proactively committing to the environment and constantly developing sustainable practices. The H.S.H. Prince Albert II of Monaco has pledged to achieve carbon neutrality by 2050. Thanks to this ambitious initiative, the Principality works closely with the hotel sector to ensure environment-friendly measures are being applied. Monaco has 2202 certified bedrooms (Green Globe, Green Key, Planet 21), 88 % of its hotel capacity. 97% of hotels have signed the National Pact for Energy Transition, comprising 2,418 bedrooms.

“Additionally, several different soft mobility and intermodal solutions have been developed to make getting around in Monaco easier: the development of pedestrian paths (80 public elevators, 37 escalators, 8 travelators), MonacoBike (an electric bike rental service availability in 42 stations through Monaco), Mobee (an electric car rental service), a solar-powered water taxi, and hybrid buses that run on diester, generating fewer greenhouse gas emissions. To date, 2,000 m² of solar panels have been installed on the roofs of the Principality. One of the latest developments is the development of a Carbon Footprint Calculator, and now travelers can estimate their carbon footprint and receive recommendations on how to offset these.

“To stay in Monaco is to be dazzled by the shimmering blue waters of the Mediterranean, mesmerized by the grandeur of the Prince’s Palace, enchanted by the world’s most beautiful cars rolling along characterful cobbled streets, hypnotized by the iconic Monte-Carlo Casino, marveled by the exhibits at the Oceanographic Museum, impressed by the local Monegasque experience, and fascinated by fine dining at a Michelin-starred restaurant. Monaco offers unique experiences because Monaco is a place like nowhere else.”

2. Many travel advisors might think their clients can't afford Monaco. Can you address that misconception?

“Monaco is known for its magnificent 5-star properties. However, Monaco also offers hotels in the 4 and 3-star categories, which offer more affordable pricing for those travelers that want to experience Monaco in a more budget-friendly style. Just like Monaco offers an array of fine dining and Michelin-star restaurant alternatives, it also has casual restaurants and local eateries.

“There are diverse experiences to discover Monaco for free: Visit Monaco-Ville, the Old Town where the most important attractions like the Prince's Palace, The Cathedral, and the Oceanographic museum are. The Changing of Guards in front of the palace takes place daily at 11:55am, a spectacle free of charge. Monaco gardens are also free: Japanese Garden, The Rose Garden, Little Africa, and many parks. Larvotto beach and its newly renovated promenade are also open to all travellers. The public beach offers multiple dining options overlooking the beautiful Mediterranean Sea.

“Walking around the glamorous Monte-Carlo district is available to everyone, window shopping is free, and visitors can enjoy the incredible luxury cars rolling down the streets. The Casino Monte-Carlo is also open to visitors, even those who just want to visit it and not gamble, the entrance is 17 euros, and you can be awed by the incredible architecture. Strolling by the main harbor, Port Hercules is a must, and it's also free. Many restaurants, shops and the Royal Family's Car Collection Museum is a must when walking around this area. Yacht sightseeing is available in this area, and it does not cost a thing. Lastly, Tête de Chien is a perfect place to see amazing panoramic views of Monaco and the French Riviera; highly recommended for those into hiking. Monaco has developed several pedestrian walks to make the Principality accessible; visitors can also take the bus or rent an electric bike, which is budget-friendly.

“As you can see, Monaco offers several alternatives for those traveling on a budget and wanting to experience the best of the Principality.”

SAVE MORE. DO MORE.

3. Monaco is world famous for its casinos and its Grand Prix car race. While those are big draws, what other attractions does the country have to offer?

“Monaco is known for its luxurious experiences, which there are many. But there's also a side that many do not know or consider; Monaco offers unexpected experiences:

- Visit a Made in Monaco company: Chocolaterie of Monaco, La Brasserie de Monaco, L'orangerie Monaco

- Explore the Fointvieille district: where most Monegasques reside and where the second harbor is located. Surrounded by the sea, the district of Fontvieille has its own little port, the perfect place for a lunchtime or evening stroll. The boats and restaurants along the quays are a picturesque sight, overlooked by the mighty cliffs of the Rock. You'll find various places to eat here, with culinary offerings to suit all tastes.
- Discover Monaco by foot: Monaco is a very walkable destination. Monaco has 80 public elevators, 37 escalators, and eight travelators.
- Bike around the Principality: Monabike offers 390 electric bikes Located in 42 stations throughout the Principality.
- Visit the many beautiful gardens of Monaco: Without a doubt, the Principality of Monaco and its surroundings harbor natural treasures. The Principality has established a solid garden and park development policy, with over 250,000 m² for a city-state of 195ha, which puts its second in Europe, just after Vienna. Precious rare species harmonize with flowers and plants, symbolically simple and fresh.
- Shop with the locals at the Condamine Market: La Condamine Market is part of Monaco's heritage. It represents the authentic heart of the Principality, where Monaco's population likes to gather.
- Enjoy fresh seafood: Seafood lovers and connoisseurs head towards the Port de Fontvieille in Monaco, and meet at Les Perles de Monte-Carlo, an oyster bar located at the very tip of the pier. Brice Cachia and Frédéric Rouxville, both certified biologists, launched their sea products refining enterprise in 2011 with a goal: refining oysters and other fine seafood products. Sitting on wooden benches, in a genuine ambiance, discover a corner of Brittany, right below the Prince's Palace! Savor our fine products, while sipping on a glass of organic wine.
- Cultural events: explore art or education exhibitions at places like Grimaldi Forum, visit impressive museums like the Oceanographic Museum or Royal Highness Car Collection Museum, attend a concert at the Opéra de Monte-Carlo, enjoy a performance of The Monte-Carlo Philharmonic Orchestra or the Ballets de Monte-Carlo

4. What resources does Visit Monaco make available to Canadian travel agents?

"We currently offer trade resources for Canadian travel advisors at our <https://traveltrade.visitmonaco.com/>. We also have plenty of information, news, and the latest developments on our visitmonaco.com website.

"We are thrilled to announce that our Monaco Expert platform, oriented to the North American trade segment, will be live in May of this year. The Monaco Expert Learning & Sales Companion provides a complete training, marketing, and sales tool for travel advisors.

"Three multi-modal chapters lead advisors through a curated collection of the best images, videos, and product information on Monaco's key visitor attractions, experiences, and accommodations while offering exclusive insights and sales tips from local suppliers, as well as top-selling advisor peers. Complete the training chapters by answering a few questions, and the Sales Companion portion is unlocked.

“The Retain, Promote, and Sell channels are a 24/7 resource for advisors to maintain expert knowledge, start conversations with clients and prospects by sharing engaging creative assets, and ultimately make bookings with deep sales support tailored to advisor partners. A complete Directory of destination suppliers with searchable filters rounds out the program.

“The Monaco Expert platform is a native iOS and Android app, so advisors can learn, promote, and sell anytime, anywhere, and on any device.”

5. What can you tell us about Monaco vis-a-vis the Canadian market?

“Canadians can reach Monaco via Nice Côte d’Azur Airport. Air Transat and Air Canada offer a direct seasonal flight from Montreal, allowing other cities in Canada to connect from there. Upon arrival in Monaco, travelers can take a spectacular helicopter ride, now operated by BLADE, to the Principality taking approximately 7 minutes. Or enjoy a beautiful scenic ride that takes about 35 minutes (depending on the season).

“Monaco is the perfect destination for Canadians. The destination offers 300 days of sunshine, mild winter and fall, and beautiful spring and summer weather.”

“Monet: Capturing the Sun”
Exhibition at the Grimaldi Forum

Following the exhibition dedicated to the imagination and creations of Christian Louboutin, the Grimaldi Forum will be devoting its 2023 summer season to Claude Monet! Thanks to a major loan of important works by the Musée Marmottan Monet and the support of international public and private collections, the cultural institution will be displaying around one hundred canvases by the iconic impressionist who, like many artists active in the second half of the 19th century, spent some time on the Côte d'Azur. Enchanted by the landscapes of the Riviera, Claude Monet even spent three months in Liguria, in Bordighera and later in Menton, producing forty paintings during that period.

Concert - "Tribute to Renato Carosone"

Thursday 16 March 2023, at 8 pm, Théâtre des Variétés La Dante Monaco pays tribute to the pianist and songwriter Renato Carosone, the unforgettable juggler of words and music, best known as the main creative force of classic Italian lyric songs in the 1950s. The 100th anniversary of Carosone's birth was recently celebrated. Performing on stage will be Lorenzo Hengeller, considered by most critics to be the true heir to the great man. He shows tremendous originality, playing with irony, a sense of theatre, and a multitude of quotes blending jazz and swing. Accompanied by Gianfranco Campagnoli on trumpet, Hengeller will give a very special tribute.

Concert - "Trio Bernold"

Friday 17 March 2023, at 8 pm, Musée Océanographique de Monaco Monte-Carlo Spring Arts Festival: The Trio Bernold performs a light-hearted concert based on the Children's Corner, written by Debussy for his daughter Chouchou and the játékok ("games" in Hungarian) by György Kurtág, miniature musical pieces full of spirit. Meanwhile, the sonatas of Bach and Debussy are dotted with other fancies of composition, with an eye on the past...
