Hello and happy May!

I hope everyone is well and healthy - maybe wrapping up a school year, or making plans for a summer holiday, or tending to some seedlings for a summer garden of veggies and flowers. No matter how you find your peace, I hope you're finding it and often.

I have some good news and developments to share and I'm so looking forward to seeing you on our call on Monday, May 11.

First - I'm excited to share that the long-awaited Friends of Sinn Féin Merch shop is finally open! I'm going to make an announcement on social media and in an upcoming newsletter soon, but I wanted to give you all - the activists who have been putting in the work! - the first look.

Check it out here: https://friendsofsinnfein.myshopify.com/

All of the products are made in the USA using union labor and printing.

And as an extra special thank you for all that you do, I made a special coupon code just for the activists on this list. Use this link: https://friendsofsinnfein.myshopify.com/discount/ACTIVISTS for 20% off your order. This code is good once per customer, and will only be valid through Friday, May 15.

I saw many of your names on last Saturday's call with Rose Conway-Walsh. It was an excellent and helpful conversation. If you haven't seen it yet, check it out below.

We have a lot to do on our next call on Monday. Here's a look at what each committee will be up to:
