KRG Representation encourages Kurdish-Canadians to assist MPs' Kurdish Research Study Project Washington, DC, USA (us.gov.krd) – Tom Kmeic, member of the Canadian Parliament, has initiated and funded the Kurdish Research Study Project to collect demographic data across Kurdish communities in Canada. The Kurdistan Regional Government Representation in the United States, which provides services to the Kurdistani community across all of North America, welcomes the project and encourages members of the diaspora to participate. The project aims to enable the Canadian Government to foster a strong relationship with Kurdish communities and have an approximation number of Kurds across Canada. The MPs say that by reaching out to Kurdish communities in Canada, the Canadian Government will be able to achieve better and precise communication with all the Kurdish communities. Further, by collecting demographic data across Kurdish communities in Canada, their initiative will allow them to better identify and cater to the needs and aspirations of Canadian Kurds. One example of how this project can benefit the community is that it will be important in enabling the Canadian Government to reach out to Kurdish communities during important annual events such as Newroz celebrations, Halabja genocide commemorations and Yezidi genocide remembrance. Ms. Ashti Waissi, the Research Advisor and Members Assistant at the House of Commons of Canada, is the project administrator, which is to be completed on August 31, 2021. If you are a Kurdish-Canadian and wish to assist Ms. Ashti Waissi with the project, you can reach her at: ashti.waissi.711@parl.gc.ca. https://us.gov.krd/.../krg-representation-encourages.../

Today marks the 38th anniversary of the Barzani genocide, where the Ba'ath regime under Saddam Hussein systematically killed about 8,000 men and boys, aged from 10 to 80 years old, from the Barzan region of #Kurdistan Today marks the 38th anniversary of the genocide of the Barzanis, in which thousands of men and boys from the Barzani tribe were systematically killed by the Ba'ath regime in Iraq. We honor those who were murdered and reflect on the suffering and resilience of those who survived. On July 31, 1983, under the orders of Saddam Hussein, the Iraqi army raided numerous camps near Erbil and further north in Iraqi Kurdistan and abducted 8,000 Barzani men and boys, some as young as 10 years of age and elderly men of up 80 years. Their mothers, wives, and daughters would never see them again. The Barzani men and boys were taken to deserts in southern Iraq, executed and buried in mass graves. The remains of some were found in the deserts of the south after 2003 and transferred to the Kurdistan Region for proper burial, but the whereabouts of thousands of victims are still unknown. In the summer of 2014, ISIS terrorists tore across Iraq, committing genocide, kidnapping, raping, and destroying churches, shrines, and cultural heritage sites. Anyone who did not follow their interpretation of Islam or stood against their so-called caliphate was executed, abducted, or enslaved. The victims were many, but most notably, the Yazidis and Christians. Tomorrow marks the seventh anniversary of ISIS's genocide against the Yazidis, where more than 5,500 Yazidis were killed, and about 6,300 people, mostly women and girls, were systematically forced into slavery—about 3,000 of whom are still missing. Additionally, more than 90 percent of the estimated 360,000 Yazidis living in Sinjar and its surrounding areas have been displaced since the terrorist organization unleashed its fighters on the Yazidi community. Close to 220,000 Yazidis remain in camps in the Kurdistan Region. We bow our heads in salute to the victims of this genocide and pay tribute to the survivors of ISIS's brutal campaign of killing and destruction. We honor all who remain missing and pray for their safe return to the embrace of their families. We stand in solidarity with our Yazidi brothers and sisters and continue to support their call for justice and accountability. 		In this latest round of congressional outreach last week, Ms. Abdul Rahman had a warm and wide-ranging discussion with Senator Bob Casey (Pennsylvania-D), member of the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. The two discussed the security and humanitarian situation in the region and the impact of climate change and environmental damage in Kurdistan and Iraq. Senator Casey expressed his support to Kurdistan and praised the peshmerga's valor in the fight against ISIS. The KRG envoy also met with Senator Mike Rounds (South Dakota-R), member of the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees. The Representative briefed him on the security and political situation in Kurdistan and Iraq. Similarly, Ms. Abdul Rahman had a cordial meeting with Senator Angus King (Maine-I), member of the Senate Armed Services and Intelligence Committees. She updated him on regional security developments and US support to the Peshmerga and Iraqi forces against ISIS. Senator King praised the peshmerga for their critical role and partnership with US forces. The Representative also updated Senator Tammy Duckworth (Illinois-D), member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, on the security and humanitarian situation in Kurdistan. Senator Duckworth is an Iraq War veteran and a Purple Heart recipient and has visited Kurdistan in the past. Ms. Abdul Rahman briefed Senator John Hickenlooper (Colorado-D), member of the Energy and Natural Resources Committee, on the US-Kurdistan partnership and discussed recent developments in Kurdistan and Iraq. The KRG Representation will continue to meet with the staff and members of the US Congress. https://us.gov.krd/.../representative-abdul-rahman.../

The book portrays the Kurdistan Region's culture of tolerance and peaceful coexistence among its religious components: Muslims, Christians, Yazidis, Jews, Zoroastrians, Baha'is, Sabean Mandaeans, and Kakais. The book outlines how people of various faiths have lived side by side in Kurdistan Region, despite enduring decades of turmoil. It covers how Kurdistan's diversity is celebrated and protected through education, security, dialogue and laws. A Kurdistan For All includes interviews and testimonies from faith leaders, diplomats, government officials, philanthropists, citizens, and survivors of genocide, as well as a foreword by H.E. President Nechirvan Barzani. Among those who contributed to this book are Ambassador Sam Brownback, former US Ambassador-At-Large for International Religious Freedom; Congressman Michael Waltz, Member of the U.S. House of Representatives; Canada's Ambassador to Iraq Ulric Shannon; and Franklin Graham, President of Samaritan's Purse. Prime Minister Barzani and Senator Van Hollen discuss US-Kurdistan relations Washington, DC, USA (us.gov.krd) – Prime Minister Masrour Barzani thanked US Senator Chris Van Hollen in an online meeting on Tuesday for co-sponsoring a resolution commemorating Operation Provide Comfort and supporting the ongoing strong US-Kurdistan partnership. Prime Minister Barzani expressed his appreciation for Senator Van Hollen's consistent support to the Kurds and for jointly introducing the resolution in the Senate with Senator Marco Rubio after it was first introduced in the House of Representatives. Concurrent Resolution 32 marks the remarkable success of Operation Provide Comfort in 1991 to aid hundreds of thousands of Kurds who had fled Saddam Hussein's forces after they rose up against his dictatorship. The mission was launched by the United States, Britain, and France and was followed by the establishment of a no-fly zone that protected the Kurdistan Region for the next 12 years, allowing the people of Kurdistan the breathing space to establish a parliament, government, and other institutions. During the meeting, Prime Minister Barzani thanked America for its support to the Peshmerga forces and called for more robust bilateral relations between the Kurdistan Region and the United States. The Prime Minister and Senator Van Hollen expressed their concern regarding the assassination attempt against Iraqi Prime Minister Mustafa Kadhimi and reiterated their commitment to a stable Iraq. They also discussed the outcome of the Iraqi elections as well as security challenges facing the Kurdistan Region. Bayan Sami Abdul Rahman, the Kurdistan Regional Government Representative to the

30-Sep-21	Twitter	On #InternationalTranslationDay, I would like to pay tribute to the language specialists who bring us closer together. They have the responsibility to translate quickly and accurately while keeping their cool
15-Aug-21	Instagram	I had an interview with @kurdistan24tv.official about US-Kurdistan relations and was inevitably asked if what we are witnessing in Afghanistan will happen in Iraq/Kurdistan. Answer: the US says it is committed to staying in Iraq but in a non-combat role, that the fight against ISIS is not over, and the US and Iraq just had the Strategic Dialogue. But we in Kurdistan should unite. That is the most important step we can take to protect our achievements. We must also continue to strengthen our outreach regionally and globally, and of course, maintain our friendship and cooperation with America and Europe. What we are seeing in Afghanistan is tragic, especially for women, girls and anyone who believes in human rights. #afghanistan #afghan #afghanistanwomenrights #kurdistan #baghdad #washington #afghanistanveteran #kabul #womensrights #erbil #slemani #kirkuk #shingal #sinjar #duhok #mosul #halabja #uskurdistan #americankurd #kurdistan24 @rudaw @krg_dfr @kurdistan

29-Aug-21	Instagram	The visit of French President Macron to Kurdistan was historic, amid a festive atmosphere of friendship and solidarity that goes back at least 30 years. The most moving part of his visit was his meeting with the family of Hujam Surchi, the #peshmerga who was singled out and killed by ISIS and has come to symbolize the peshmerga's courage and sacrifice. 12-Sep-21	Instagram	In @dallasnews, I wrote that Kurdistan is the success story that is not spoken about often enough. Here are some excerpts: 'While many Americans are understandably weary and may question the wisdom of 'forever wars' in Afghanistan and Iraq, Kurdistan Region provides an example of what can be achieved with US support and genuine partnership; it is the success story that is not spoken about often enough.' 'After America's recent tumultuous withdrawal from Afghanistan, its adversaries may be enjoying a moment of schadenfreude and saying that it has lost its longest war. Certainly, for America's friends, it is disturbing to see its turbulent departure from Afghanistan and to hear the voices of vulnerable partners left behind. There has been much discussion in Kurdistan and elsewhere on whether the US might do the same in Iraq. There is also concern that terrorist organizations will be emboldened and doubt America's commitment to Kurdistan, Iraq and the enduring defeat of ISIS.'

24-Oct-21	Instagram	Thank you @kovanizzat_official of @hawali_kurdistan24 for sharing news of the resolution in the US Congress to commemorate the 30th anniversary of Operation Provide Comfort and celebrate the US-Kurdistan partnership today. H.Con.Res.32 has been introduced in the House of Representatives by members of the Kurdish American Congressional Caucus and other supporters of Kurdistan, led by @repmichaelwaltz, and in the US Senate by @chrisvanhollen and @senatormarcorubio. There are almost two dozen co-sponsors in all and we thank each of them. We look forward to gaining more support from other members of Congress so that the entire body can vote on the resolution and put it on the record. Operation Provide Comfort was launched by the United States, Britain and France in 1991 to save the lives of close to 2 million refugees who fled Saddam Hussein's forces after the Uprising
