

Southern Transitional Council Broadens its Advocacy Efforts to Capitol Hill

Grassroots Political Consulting LLC is pleased to announce its commitment to represent and advocate for the Southern Transitional Council (STC) on Capitol Hill. The STC desires to be a strong ally of the United States. It is allied with the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates in their fight against terrorism and jihadists in the Arabian Peninsula, as well as against the Iranian interference in the region. "Today in Aden, the STC has removed malicious forces, who disguised themselves for years as members of the Presidential Brigades in Aden. These forces were not only corrupt, but responsible for injuries and deaths of many innocent citizens of Yemen." (Abdulsalam Mused, Director, Office of Foreign Relations, STC)

The STC calls for negotiations with all concerned local, regional, and international parties to establish new political regime in the current Republic of Yemen. This will aid in formulating a true representative government, spurring economic growth, incentivizing expansion of trade, building comprehensive education programs and a renewed infrastructure that will benefit all citizens of North and South Yemen. The STC has also called for peaceful demonstrations across the country, but has reiterated that it will defend the rights of innocent citizens if attacked for exercising their right to peacefully protest.

"Our company is proud to represent the STC on Capitol Hill, in order to build upon support, which they have received from various tribal, business, military and ideological leaders in Yemen, as well as the support of the people they represent. This is in addition to the support they have received from many leaders in the international community who agree with STC's goals and vision for leading South Yemen towards a long-term sustainable future. We will urge the U.S. Congress and the Trump Administration to recognize the Southern Transitional Council and its efforts." (Daniel Faraci, Director, GPC LLC).

An official FARA registration was filed on January 1, 2018, and Grassroots Political Consulting LLC will provide political, strategic and business guidance to the STC, as well as represent them on Capitol Hill.
