The Honorable Mike Pompeo
Secretary

U.S. Department of State
Washington, DC 20520

Dear Secretary Pompeo,

We write to urge you to watch closely the humanitarian crisis in Aden in South of Yemen. The situation is on the brink of another wave of fatal disease and famine as the Yemeni government that is in charge fails to answer the very basic needs of the people in South Yemen.

Since 2015, Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates have pumped billions of dollars in the banks of the Yemeni government. Yet, the humanitarian situation in the South of Yemen, including the capital city Aden, continues to deteriorate. We've seen cholera erupting in the country and kids eating from garbage, while the corrupt government officials are living in luxurious hotels of Saudi Arabia.

Today in Aden, the temperature is reaching the 113 Fahrenheit, with absence of any services like electricity and clean water. This was accompanied with paying no salaries for the workers or months. The government is so indifferent that one may question its legitimacy to exist. Such indifference is demonstrated by the deterioration of security and public services, such as health and education. It is becoming a common scene in almost all cities and towns in South of Yemen that garbage is piled up and sewage flooding streets.

SOUTHERN TRANSITIONAL COUNCIL

Last year, in less than three months, Cholera has killed nearly 2,000 people in the country, and infected more than a half million, in one of the world's largest outbreaks in the past 50 years. We are writing to you to urge your good offices to take an action to end this misery and help our people avoid a looming humanitarian crisis.

Few weeks ago, your excellency has mentioned on Twitter that the Iranian support for the Houthis is increasing the already existing humanitarian case in Yemen. You asked for holding Ayatollah Khamenei accountable for the suffering of the Yemeni people. This statement reflects your deep understanding of the situation and also assures that America is deeply concerned about the humanitarian situation in Yemen. Thus, we appeal to you to exert your influence the US allies in the region represented by the Arab Coalition countries to hold the Yemeni government accountable for the deteriorating situation in Aden and other places in south and north Yemen.

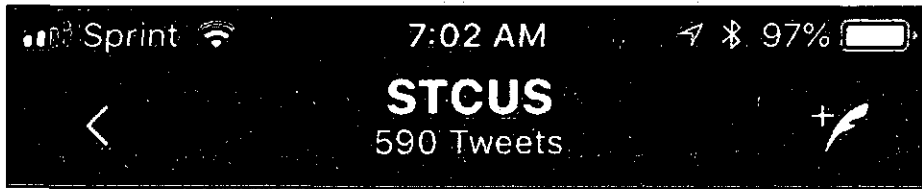

Sincerely,

Southern Transitional Council (STC)

الهدف من هذا الهشتاج هو توضيح للرأي العام

شعب الجنوب من أجل حمايتها من قوى النفوذ
