PSALM

23

There’s a cure for emptiness.
There’s grace that restores.
There’s a Shepherd who walks with us
through the darkest valleys.
Whether you’re walking in peace
or walking through pain,
this series is for you.

Join Pastor Joel in The Engine Room,
this Wednesday night, July 22.

What if one conversation could change someone's life forever? Most of us know people we care about who are far from God. We pray for them. We worry about them. We hope they will discover the truth about Jesus. But when the moment comes to talk about our faith, fear takes over. What do I say? What if I say it wrong? What if they get offended? What if they ask something I cannot answer? Today's message will challenge the way you think about sharing your faith and may change the way you see the people God has placed around you.

THE ENGINE ROOM
WEDNESDAYS | 6:00 PM | HISTORIC SANCTUARY

What does it mean to truly lack nothing? This summer at The Engine Room, we're slowing down and sitting with one of the most beloved and most profound passages in all of Scripture: Psalm 23. Over four Wednesday nights, Pastor Joel will lead us through David's timeless song of trust, from the green pastures of God's grace to the valley of the shadow of death and beyond. Psalm 23 has comforted believers for thousands of years, but there's more here than comfort. There's a cure for emptiness. There's grace that restores. There's a Shepherd who walks with us through the darkest valleys and seats us at his table on the other side. Whether you're walking in peace or walking through pain, this series is for you.
