and introducing
My upcoming book

Robin's main issues

- Searched at the door
- Rude police don't respect law
- Official response – no problem
- I understand underlying cause
- Similar to my painful, dangerous experience

Searched again

- Bill of rights protects against unreasonable searches
- Search requires probable cause, testimony
- This right frequently violated
- Phone call, airport, concert, courthouse
- We should be angry, motivated
- Average citizen is cynical, complacent

Dangerous loss of rights

- Gradual loss of rights over years, decades
- Lose civil rights, political rights for illusion of safety
- Left with neither safety nor rights
- People who trade freedom for security retain neither
- Lose political rights, lose economic rights

Underlying goal

- Distract people with entertainment, captive news media, misinformation, war, fear, another enemy, ...
- Fools don't notice wealth consolidation
- Peasants don't notice corruption, greed, Earth destruction, ...
- Money, money, money, and more money
- Never enough money

Police directives

- Police given incompatible goals: fear of crime, maintain control, provide respect, enforce policy, don't question, law, constitution, you're heroes
- Angry when shown incompatibility
- Don't respect law, just follow instructions
- Robin's problem – right to bear arms
- My problem – deprivation of liberty, assault

Government policy (dogma)

- Police do not break laws
- Criminal complaints ignored by city, state, nation
- Prosecutors intentionally foul indictments
- Can't sue individual police nor politicians
- No individual accountability
- Great way to protect enforcers

Reform needed

- I started a book with my daughter
- “Reclaiming our American Democracy”
- “Think – Revolt – Vote”
- Revolution of the mind, spirit
- Guns pointless
- Developing the outline
