Backstory

- Healing the world starts with self, family
- Nephew has MCS, multiple chemical sensitivity
- Like an allergic reaction to the world
- I started a weekly prayer telecon for him in 2015, still going on
- Encourages personal healing, family connection, public speaking
- Tonight's talk completes my series on prayer
- Brings it home

Prayer for Personal Healing

- Dear divine God in all your many wonderful aspects, dear heavenly family and friends.
- We gather here together, human, angel, and divine to worship, understand, listen, pray, and commune.
- For whatever purpose, you have granted us this life; earthly, heavenly, spiritual, eternal life. Life in all its troubles, joys, sorrows, pains, rage, and delights. Life for our missions, whatever they may be, with purposes we sometimes dimly glean.

Prayer Part 2

- We seek your help in understanding and accepting the mission our life holds. Please grant us stamina and acceptance, enable our continued life with all its challenges and wonders. Help us see the glow of beauty in the flowers of life, in the shape of a leaf, in the colors of sky, in the touch of those we hold dear.
- Help us pause to see beauty and goodness, truth and love which surround us always. Jesus our friend, please support us while we stand together in strength, unity, power, and love.

Prayer Part 3

- Help us all direct our love for individual, family, and universal healing. Guide us in breaking the cycle of pain and retribution so we can conquer our troubles and heal our pains to experience joy in life and life in You. Healing allows us to reclaim our nature as children of earth and children of heaven.
- Help us arise from our struggles to reenter your light and your love so that we may all be more dynamically content. Infuse us all with light, love – life reborn.

Prayer Part 4

- Lead us in accepting our troubles and joys for it is only in acceptance that healing comes. Our pains keep us from ourselves. Our reckless greed or unknown obsession hide the deeper reality of our struggle and that hides the eternal truth of deity for we are angels of earth and heaven.
- Open our eyes dear Lord to the truth of our beauty. Open our hearts to the experience of your divinity.

Prayer Part 5

- We send our prayer for life onward, toward Jesus and heaven as we reach deep into ourselves for love, peace, and vitality.
- In this we pray through the glory of God!
- Amen
