

YOU by Fellowship Creative

I've been lost in the darkest places
With a hole in my heart
I've been stripped of all my purpose
I've been wandering from the start

But You, But You
But You, But You

In my shame I once was fashioned
Stitched together with lies
I was hiding from your judgment
My soul was paralyzed

But You, But You
But You, But You

You changed my heart
You set me free
You heard my prayer
You rescued me

You watched my ways
You saw my flaws
You knew my sin
You covered all

You changed my heart
You set me free
You heard my prayer
You rescued me

You watched my ways
You saw my flaws
You knew my sin
You covered all

My hope assured
My past erased
My fate secured
My saving grace

My healing hand

My mighty king
My rock to stand
My everything
Is You

There's no other name
Worthy of my praise
Jesus, there's none for me

There's no other name
Worthy of my praise
Jesus, there's none for me

There's no other name
Worthy of my praise
Jesus, there's none for me

There's no other name
Worthy of my praise

There's no other name
Worthy of my praise

There's no other name
Worthy of my praise

But You, But You
But You, But You
