Furniture showroom Dsegnare has reopened in a new home in the Dogpatch, a 4,000-square-foot space reflecting the company's innovative design sense and cutting-edge aesthetic. Housed in a circa 1900 shipping warehouse, the showroom's industrial look is a stylish backdrop for contemporary European and American lines like Vitra, Established & Sons and CC-Tapis. 1 Mississippi St., 415-500-2731, dsegnare.com.

Starry Night Lighting and furniture company Paul Ferrante debuts the stellar new Starlight chandelier. Handmade in LA, the pendant is an exemplary example of Ferrante's old-world artisanship and attention to detail. Through Hewn at SFDC, 415-962-7833, hewn.com, paulferrante.com.

Sublime Sensibility

Iconic designer Darryl Carter's debut collection for Baker's Milling Road speaks to his talents as a curator and collector. Carter's urbane portfolio of casegoods, upholstery, accessories and textiles showcases his signature mix of classic and modern. SFDC, 415-861-8866, mr.bakerfurniture.com.

COMMON THREADS Contemporary rug designer Christopher Farr and multidisciplinary LA-based studio

Commune (one of the firms behind hot San Francisco eatery Tartine Manufactory) have aligned to launch a graphic new collection. The eight superbly-crafted designs reference and reinvent traditional textile patterns, and all can be produced to custom specifications.
