In 1977, the song reached number 11 on the U.S. Billboard Hot 100, becoming their first entry into the top 20 in the United States. The song was certified Gold by the RIAA on December 18, 1990. [4] Overview The 7-inch single was certified gold by the RIAA. This version was a much shorter version of the song, released until 3:26, a version that was also the band's only single to travel to the UK, reaching No. 51 there. [5] All the original versions of the single had a B-side of Questions of My Childhood. The song was then re-released on all Kansas compilation albums (with the exception of Works in Progress) and all live albums from Kansas. The song is now certified quadruple platinum. This song is 96th on VH1 100 Greatest Hard Rock Songs. [6] Staff Steve Walsh - main vocals, keyboards, organ Robby Steinhardt - Kerry Livgren choirs - electric guitar, Rich Williams piano - acoustic and electric guitar Dave Hope - bass guitar Phil Ehart - drums In other media Carry On Wayward Son is considered the unofficial theme song of the television series Supernatural. [7] It is played during the recap before every season finale of Supernatural, with the exception of the first season, where it was played during the recap of the penultimate episode. At the end of the 200th episode of the show in season 10, the cast of a play based on Supernatural sang Carry On Wayward Son. The song was also prominent in the finale, titled Carry On (in homage to the song's title and lyrics); As opposed to previous uses, the song appeared diegetically, with Dean Winchester declaring that he loves this song as he plays on the car radio that Dean drives across the sky. A cover of Neoni's song followed the original Kansas version.
