

The phrase: "The God Who is There" does not merely serve as a title for this teaching series; the title actually serves as a thematic bridge for the hope that Joseph had throughout his life. In Joseph, we see a person who cannot determine God's presence based on the "ups" or the "downs" in his life. The abiding hope that Joseph had was that God was working every experience he went through for an ultimate good. We are glad you are with us today!

The God Who is There
