WEAVER Funeral Home was founded in 1945 when Ralph Weaver, a licensed Funeral Director, and his wife Virginia, purchased 170 Dundas St. West, now known as "Weaver-West.' Ralph & Virginia took residence upstairs in the Funeral Home, where they dedicated themselves to their business, raising their children, and serving their community. In 1950 Ralph was joined by his brother, E.W. Al Weaver as a licensed Funeral Director. The two brothers worked side by side for the next fifteen years, running the local ambulance and funeral business that served Trenton and the surrounding communities until 1965, when Al and his wife Marion, purchased the funeral home in Campbellford, Ontario.

Al's eldest son Jeff and his wife Susan took over the reins of the business in 1987 and would eventually build and open a new funeral home in Trenton (Weaver-East) in 1996. Five years later the original Weaver Funeral Home location at 170 Dundas St. W. (Weaver-West) was purchased and returned into the family fold in 2001.

The Weaver legacy of service to bereaved families has now been represented by three generations with Tim Weaver, the eldest son of Jeff and Susan working in the family business since 1999. Tim advanced to the role of Chief Operating Officer, serving personally and managing the daily operations of staff that facilitate the funeral needs of our bereaved families.

There has been an incredible amount of change in funeral service since Ralph's humble beginnings in 1945. The traditional families of yesterday viewed funeral service as a respected, necessary ritual. These families knew they would hold a funeral service for their loved one - they simply had to decide where. The families of the present do not always depend on traditions like they used to and are not having funerals just because their grandmother did. Today's families are tech-savvy and rely on the Internet to research and seek more information. Yes, there are still many traditional families out there, but this group seems to be on the decline; the families of today have more focus on life and ceremonial recognition, personalization, and options of technology. It's reported that 97% of people now turn to the web to find information on products & services, including funerals and providers. This is good news that people can educate themselves about the available options, so they can make a well-informed decision. They can learn about burial & cremation, funeral service options, memorial & tribute product offerings, and check into pricing. Families are also looking to their social network platforms to see what their peers recommend.

Since 2007, the Funeral Celebrant movement has been a big part of our process to provide new and customized options for our families that do not wish to have a formal, Clergy-led service.

Families in society today can be separated by great geographical distances, and attending gatherings and funeral ceremonies are not practical from a time or financial perspective. This is why we have developed our unique funeral Webcasting software. The ceremony can be streamed live and in "real" time, so that friends and relatives are able to virtually attend the service on our website, from anywhere in the world via the internet.

Weaver professional service offerings now include an exclusive, estate documentation settlement for each family we serve. A 30-minute phone interview with our partner Peacehold will result in a completed form package delivered to the executor's home, with directions for signatures, including addressed and prepaid envelopes to forward all the documents to the proper agencies for benefits, etc., and phone support for one full year after the funeral.

While the journey of bereaved families has changed over time, our goal as funeral professionals hasn't. We still are devoted to serving each family in the most compassionate and unique way by walking with them through the death and grief process. By creating healing and memorable experiences with our customized service options, we're confident that the families get exactly what they want, with a meaningful experience they need, from a funeral home they trust.

The communities we serve and our interactive work culture is the center of our success. Each of our team members strive to be their personal best, contributing in their own unique way by adding their personal touch.

Our focus is to continually improve the service we offer and help each family create a distinctive, memorable and personalized ceremony for their loved ones.

Funeral gatherings and ceremonies are a public means of expressing our beliefs and feelings about the death of someone loved. Funerals are the public venue for offering support to others and being supported in grief, both at the time of the funeral and into the future. Funerals make a social statement that says, "come and support me." Whether it is realized or not, those who choose not to have a funeral are saying, "don't come support me."

Funeral ceremonies serve as the gathering place for mourners. When we care about someone who has died or their family members, we attend the gathering if at all possible. Our physical presence is our most important show of support for the living. By attending the ceremony, we let everyone else there know that they are not alone in their grief. Unfortunately, our society is not always a demonstrative one, but at funeral gatherings we are "allowed" to embrace, to touch, to comfort. Words are not always adequate, so we are able to demonstrate our support in a non-verbal way. This physical show of support, is one of the most important healing aspects of meaningful funeral ceremonies and tributes.

Meaningful and personalized funerals can serve as wonderful points of departure for the "head understanding" of the death. Intellectually, funerals teach us that someone we loved is now dead, even though up until the funeral we may have denied this fact. When we contact the funeral home, set a time for the service or gathering, plan the ceremony, view the body, perhaps even choose clothing and jewelry for the body, we cannot avoid acknowledging that the person we love has died. When we see the casket or urn being lowered into the ground, we are witness to death's finality.

Healing in grief is not an event, but rather a process that unfolds for weeks, months or even years after the funeral. The funeral ceremony is a ritual of ending, but also marks the beginning of the healing process. A memorable and meaningful funeral ceremony that is personalized to the individual character and beliefs, can actually set a positive tone for the grief journey that is to come.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q.WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR FINAL ARRANGEMENTS?

A. The executor and/or next of kin bear legal responsibility in the disposition of the deceased. It is prudent for the executor to include the family in any decisions regarding final arrangements.

Q. IS EMBALMING REQUIRED IN ONTARIO?

A. Embalming is not required in Ontario, but may be necessary under some circumstances.

O. CAN SERVICES BE PREARRANGED?

A. Yes, services can be prearranged through a funeral home or transfer service and can be prepaid if you wish.

Q. HOW MUCH DO FUNERALS & TRANSFER SERVICES COST?

A. Costs depend entirely on the goods and services selected by you. Every funeral director and transfer service operator is required by law to have price lists available to the public at no charge and without obligation.

Q. WHEN DO I FIND OUT THE COST (goods & services) SELECTED?

A. At the time the arrangements are agreed upon, the funeral director or transfer service operator must give you a written contract including the total price of the goods and services selected and estimate of any disbursements. The contract must be approved and signed by the person making the arrangements with the funeral director or transfer service operator.

Q. WHAT ARE CASH DISBURSEMENTS?

A. Cash disbursements are payments made by the funeral director on your behalf and might include items such as newspaper notices, clergy honoraria or flowers. Disbursements are charged to you at actual cost and if they appear on your contract, must be itemized and included in the total price.

Q. MUST A CASKET BE PLACED IN AN OUTSIDE CONTAINER FOR BURIAL?

A. This is not the law in Ontario. However, local customs vary and some cemeteries have by-laws requiring that outside containers be used for interment. For more information contact:

Cemetery Regulations, Ministry of Consumer Services; Tel: (416) 326-8393/1-800-889- 9768; TTY: (416) 229-6086 1-877-666-6545.

O. WHAT IS A PREPAID SERVICE?

A. You may prearrange and prepay services and supplies by means of a contract between you and the funeral establishment or transfer service.

Q. WHAT HAPPENS TO MY MONEY?

A. You have two options: it can be held in trust for you at a bank or trust company, or you may have the option to purchase an insurance product.

Q. IS THE PRICE OF A PREPAID SERVICE GUARANTEED?

A. All funeral providers in Ontario MUST guarantee the price of all contracted funeral services that have been prepaid in advance.

Q. HOW DOES A GUARANTEE WORK?

A. At the time of death the funeral director or transfer service will calculate cost based on the current prices. If the principal plus interest or insurance death benefit is less than the cost of services, no further money is owed.

Q. WHAT IF THERE IS AN EXCESS OF FUNDS AFTER A GUARANTEED PREPAID FUNERAL HAS BEEN PROVIDED?

A. If you entered into a prepaid funeral services contract in Ontario after June 1, 1990 the balance, if any, of the prepayment funds that are in excess of the cost of delivering the services and supplies contracted for MUST be refunded to the estate. If you prepaid prior to June 1, 1990 the funds will be refunded at the funeral establishments discretion.

Frequently Asked Questions

O. HOW ARE PREPAID FUNDS PROTECTED?

A. Legislation provides several means for ensuring protection of prepaid funds. At the time of prepayment, the funeral director or transfer service operator must provide the purchaser with a contract, signed by the purchaser and the funeral director, showing clearly the services you have selected and the monies you have paid. Within 10 days of the investment of the prepaid funds, the funeral establishment or transfer service operator must deliver to the purchaser an investment receipt from the financial institution that the investment has been made. If you do not receive a receipt within this time frame, we encourage you to contact the funeral home or transfer service. In addition, trust funds are inspected by the Board of Funeral Services of Ontario. Funeral establishments and transfer service operators must annually submit to the Board of Funeral Services, a Report of the Public Accountant on their trust funds. The Board of Funeral Services administers a Compensation Fund that provides compensation in the event of misappropriation of trust monies.

Q. WILL MY MONEY BE RETURNED IF I CHANGE MY MIND?

A. Yes. When a written request is received, all monies including principal and accrued interest must be refunded. However, the funeral home or transfer service may keep an administration fee of 10% of the funds to a maximum of $350.00 if the contract is cancelled after thirty days. The financial institution or insurance company may also charge a cancellation fee.

Q. HOW DO I FIND INFORMATION ABOUT SERVICES & COSTS?

A. Funeral directors and transfer service operators welcome and encourage people to make such inquiries prior to or at the time of need. Call the funeral home or transfer service and request a price list. They must provide a price list without cost or obligation. You are encouraged to compare prices and services by obtaining price lists from several establishments.

Q. IS A CASKET REQUIRED BY LAW FOR CREMATION?

A. Yes, the body must be enclosed within a minimal cremation casket of combustible material.

Q. WHAT HAPPENS IF I DON'T WANT A TRADITIONAL FUNERAL?

A. All funeral homes must offer an inexpensive service known as 'direct disposition'.

O. WHAT IS A DIRECT DISPOSITION?

A. This option includes the removal of the deceased from the place of death, the placement of the body in a cremation or burial casket, the delivery of the body to the cemetery or crematorium and the filing of necessary documentation. It does not include visitation or services with the body present.

Q. WITH DIRECT DISPOSITION MUST I HAVE CREMATION?

A. No. You can have either direct cremation or direct earth burial.

O. WHY ARE CASKETS OPEN?

A. Often our first response to news of a death is "I can't believe it." In fact, many people who have had someone close to them die, report a period of "denial" prior to the visitation or funeral.

Viewing of the deceased in an open casket serves to acknowledge the reality of death as physical fact and helps to promote the subsequent process of grief and healing.

O. DOES BURIAL COST MORE THAN CREMATION?

A. Both burial and cremation can be done simply and at low cost; but generally cremation is slightly less expensive. The important thing to remember is that the method of disposition is just part of the overall cost of a funeral. The total cost will depend on your personal preferences. Also, cremation does not limit your options, but can actually increase them by allowing more flexibility.

Q. DO I HAVE TO PAY IF I PREARRANGE A FUNERAL?

A. No. However, prepaying offers many advantages such as cost guarantees, but some prefer to simply outline their instructions and preferences, to help guide their family at such a stressful time. This information is kept at the funeral home on file and is easily accessible.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q. I'M NOT RELIGIOUS, WHY HAVE A SERVICE?

A. The gathering of family, friends and community at a time of a death is an important part of the grieving and healing process. A service acknowledges the significance of life and is of equal importance. Creative services celebrating the accomplishments in life, devoted to sharing memories with music, pictures and video can take place in the funeral home or almost anywhere else. Attendees of these gatherings gain the benefit of a healthy transference through sharing this memorialization.

Q. WHAT IS DONE WITH THE CREMATED BODY?

A. The cremated body may be retained by the family, interred in a cemetery, placed in a niche in a columbarium or scattered in a designated area of the cemetery.

A very popular trend today is to have a portion of the cremated remains placed in keepsake pendants, rings, or necklaces and are also used in the making of other keepsake jewelry.

Q. WHAT IS AN URN?

A. Urns are the containers used to store the cremated body and are usually constructed of wood, glass, or metal, with an unlimited number of styles and personalization options. They can be buried in a cemetery, just like a casket, or placed in a "niche" which is a space in a columbarium, usually located in cemeteries
