Career Skills for the Global You

Student Bulletin Take action to build the Global You!

Back to School Is Here! Are You Thinking Globally?

Dear Students

The hustle and bustle of the school year is beginning. Your international skillbuilding journey starts now! Over the coming months, you have a huge opportunity to build the Global You by becoming involved in internationally focused classes, activities and programs. By the end of this semester, you could be on your way to learning a new language, becoming an expert in global current affairs, or be applying to have a life-changing international experience. Get active and get excited!

So, what can you do this month?

- If you haven't investigated international courses in your field, look into your options. See if you can audit or enroll in them. Adding an international component to your major is extremely valuable.
- Use the first weeks of class to make friends with new international students and join clubs with cross-cultural or international focuses.
- Head to your study abroad office or career center to get early information on go-abroad programs and scholarships offered by your school and. Chat with an advisor about your interests and unique goals.
- Is there a study abroad or career fair happening in your area? Go! Chat! Mingle! Network and get inspired for your future.
