Material relationships include commercial, industrial, banking, consulting, legal, accounting, charitable, and familial relationships. In making such affirmative determination, the Board must consider all factors specifically relevant to determining whether a director has a relationship to the Company that is material to that director's ability to be independent from management in connection with the duties of a member of the Committee, including but not limited to (A) the source of compensation of such director, including any consulting, advisory or other compensatory fee paid by the Company to such director; and (B) whether such director is affiliated with the Company, a subsidiary of the Company or an affiliate of a subsidiary of the Company.
