

Spring Scenes from the Cloisters

By Don Sutherland

One of the more charming locations to experience spring in New York City is the Cloisters in Washington Heights. The medieval garden is a great spot to catch the warm sun among colorful tulips and double tulips.

Five photos:

