What is the name of the performance event? Include a URL if available.

<https://www.tedxcuny.com/>

Who hosts this performance event? What is the performance event's focus area and target audience? Get into specifics (demographic, age, location, etc.) How do you know?

Both the target audience and the performers are students. The demographic while diverse is 18-25 ( mostly)

Who normally performs at these events? What genres are featured at these events?

Students, The genre is introspective and personal. Within it all kinds of sub genres are acceptable.

What are the performance guidelines for this event? (Does it cost anything? Are there time requirements? Is there a theme? Do you have to submit a written version for review beforehand?)

You don't need to submit the entire speech but an outline is required. Speakers are asked to refrain from promoting any brand or ideology. And the performance shouldn't be longer than 18 minutes.

Why is your Telling a good fit for this performance event?

Because I am a student and it could help me practice and gain some public speaking skills and confidence. And I struggled to fit my story into 2.5-3 minutes . I believe both me and my audience would be more entertained and interested in a story of a longer duration which doesn't skip over any important details.
