

More news came from Kenneth Yin, who wrote to tell us that his book, Dungan Folktales and Legends, was recently published. He teaches modern languages, literatures, and linguistics at the City University of New York. His scholarly work focuses on the oral and written literature of the Dungans and the literatures of indigenous peoples of Russia, particularly those with long-standing cultural and historical links to China and the Sinophone world. Kenneth has received fellowships and awards from the American Council of Learned Societies, the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the National Endowment for the Humanities, Harvard University's Davis Center for Russian and Eurasian Studies, the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, the City University of New York, and the Research Foundation of the City University of New York. He has written a second book, Mystical Forest: Collected Poems and Short Stories of Dungan Ethnographer Ali Dzhon, which is expected to be published in 2023.
