RE: Communication-Based Train Control Emerging Talent Intern

Dear Hiring Manager,

My name is Tobee MacDonnell, and I am writing to express my interest in the Communication-Based Train Control Emerging Talent Intern position at MTA Metro-North Railroad on your job listing on the MTA website. With two years as a General Merchandiser, I believe I've built strong communication, organizational, and analytical skills that align with this role.

With experience in managing a variety of tasks at once in a fast-paced environment where attention to detail is important and effective communication. These experiences have equipped me to work efficiently under pressure and prioritize my tasks.

I am interested in this opportunity because I believe it will offer me the chance to contribute directly to enhancing and providing service through detailed analysis and coordination of service changes. The prospect of working with the MTA will provide an ideal environment for my organizational skills to thrive and develop further.

I am eager to contribute to projects focused on developing subway service alternatives during planned construction work, which is an area that will demand my strong analytical abilities. I am committed not only to meeting expectations and identifying opportunities for improvement while delivering exceptional customer support during significant service transitions.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to an interview to further discuss in person or via Zoom about how my skills can benefit your team at MTA Metro-North Railroad. Please contact me via email at tmacdonnell761@gmail.com or by phone at (914) 815-1772. Kindly refer to my resume on the other page for a detailed overview of my qualifications.

Sincerely,
Tobee MacDonnell
