Mission, Vision & Values

Preamble

The American Evaluation Association seeks to act in ways that embody our mission, vision, and values in pursuit of our defined policies and goals.

MISSION: The American Evaluation Association’s mission is to improve evaluation practices and methods, increase evaluation use, promote evaluation as a profession, and support the contribution of evaluation to the generation of theory and knowledge about effective human action.

VISION: The American Evaluation Association’s vision is to foster an inclusive, diverse, and international community of practice positioned as a respected source of information for and about the field of evaluation.

VALUES: The American Evaluation Association values excellence in evaluation practice, utilization of evaluation findings, and inclusion and diversity in the evaluation community.

i. We value high quality, ethically defensible, culturally responsive evaluation practices that lead to effective and humane organizations and ultimately to the enhancement of the public good.

ii. We value high quality, ethically defensible, culturally responsive evaluation practices that contribute to decision-making processes, program improvement, and policy formulation.

iii. We value a global and international evaluation community and understanding of evaluation practices.

iv. We value the continual development of evaluation professionals and the development of evaluators from under-represented groups.

v. We value inclusiveness and diversity, welcoming members at any point in their career, from any context, and representing a range of thought and approaches.

vi. We value efficient, effective, responsive, transparent, and socially responsible association operations.
Background/Development Process

History:
Throughout 2014, the Board of Directors engaged in a series of strategic discussions which included the examination of data, trends, and other environmental scan information. The Board first concluded on re-written and re-organized Ends Goals statements that reflect the overall strategy for the organization. Then the Board reviewed analysis of how the current offerings/programs matched up with the intent of the Ends Goals. The Board also discussed priorities that would drive a multi-year approach and budgeting. The Board’s work does not end with the publication of this Strategic Plan. The Board will continue to monitor the organization’s progress towards implementation of the plan and monitor any changes in the landscape that might impact the plan itself or require adjustments.

Policy Based Governance Statement:
AEA has adopted a version of Policy Governance as an organizational governance approach. This approach defines the relationships between an organization’s members/stakeholders (referred to as owners in Policy Governance terminology), its board of directors and management. Explicit policies and management limitations are components of the organization’s Policy Manual and define authority and accountability for all parties involved in the organization. A primary function of the leadership of an organization is to set the course for the strategy through the articulation of the Ends Goals; the primary function of the management is to execute the strategy in the form of development and implementation of programs and products that fulfill the strategic direction. The board then monitors management for the successful progress towards the strategic ends.

Multi-year Planning Priorities:
The Presidential Rotation (President, President-Elect, Past-President) presented the following priorities to the Board at their October 2014 to drive the strategic planning process and ultimately a multi-year budgeting process:

- Professional Development of Evaluators
- Growth in Diversity of membership
- Connecting Evaluation-Related Disciplines
Living Document:

While this strategy reflects the environment, intention, and priorities at the time of its development, the Strategic Plan is meant to evolve over time as the environment changes or goals are achieved. The Board of Directors is committed to this Strategic Plan operating as a guiding document for the organization.
Ends Goals

AEA exists for...Growth in the effective use of evaluation as a means for enhancement of the public good (with results optimizing use of available resources)

1. Evaluators have the skills and knowledge to be effective, culturally competent, contextually sensitive, and ethical professionals.
   A. A growing body of knowledge advances the theories, practices, and methods of evaluation.
   B. Evaluators teach and learn evaluation in diverse professional settings.
   C. Evaluators promote communication with and meaningful use of evaluation by stakeholders.
   D. Evaluators develop new knowledge about evaluation, and disseminate and transfer it widely.
   E. Evaluators use a multicultural lens to engage diverse communities in evaluation effectively and with respect, to promote cultural, geographic, and economic inclusiveness, social justice, and equality.

2. Evaluators share and benefit from a sense of professional affiliation.
   A. A diverse community of professionals (members and non-members alike) spans culture, discipline, geography, and political philosophy and interacts to promote high quality evaluation practice and use.
   B. Evaluators are members of an evaluation community that spans culture, discipline, geography, and political philosophy.
   C. Evaluators develop the capacity of communities and organizations to engage in evaluation.
   D. Evaluators enrich the life of the association as well as that of other organizations, fields, and disciplines aligned with the association's mission.

3. There is broad growth in the visibility and perceived value of evaluation.
   A. Evaluation users will expect and require high quality evaluations.
   B. Evaluation users encourage understanding and use of evaluation in their settings.
   C. Evaluation users have knowledge and resources to understand evaluation and make evaluation a standard practice in their organization’s operations.
   D. Evaluation users are sensitive to the cultural and ethical issues that are involved in the conduct and use of evaluation that promotes the public good.
   E. Evaluation users value evaluation enough to support the profession.
   F. Potential evaluation users in communities and organizations attend to and learn from evaluation and from each other.
   G. People in organizations have the knowledge and skills to engage in evaluation.
   H. People in other professions and disciplines know and respect evaluation theories, practices, and values.
   I. People outside the field use evaluation as a vehicle for learning and improving their programs and policies.
   J. The public has knowledge and resources to understand evaluation and use it appropriately.
   K. The public demand valid information on programs and policies, and are able to understand it.
   L. The public views evaluation as a profession.

4. Informed policy builds the capacity of communities and organizations to engage in and learn from evaluation.

5. AEA Members value their membership.
