

Thirteen (13) Ways AEA Will Support the Global Evaluation Agenda 2016-2020

AEA will work to strengthen the:	Within AEA and the United States	Within Other VOPEs and Other Countries
Enabling Environment	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Ask the Evaluation Policy Task Force (EPTF) to identify 1-2 key gaps in federal legislation, regulations, or practices, then work to correct those gaps</li> </ol>	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>2. Find ways to learn systematically from other VOPEs around the world how they are strengthening their own enabling environments</li> </ol>
Institutional Capacities	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>3. Work to strengthen the demand for evaluation within governments at all levels of government, the private sector, nonprofits, and foundations</li> <li>4. Use Federal Executive Institute and other courses to train incoming federal-level political officers and SES candidates and leaders in evaluation</li> </ol>	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>5. Identify emerging VOPEs in other parts of the world, and use AEA, Local Affiliates, and/or TIGs to twin/mentor their development</li> </ol>
Individual Capacities	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>6. Offer relevant international topics to be featured in AEA's e-studies programs</li> <li>7. Expand in-person training opportunities beyond the conference and summer training institute, including online courses</li> </ol>	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>8. Waive the conference and workshop fees for any developing country evaluator awarded conference travel funds by EvalPartners</li> <li>9. Solicit webinar speakers from outside the USA</li> <li>10. Step up the marketing for the Silent Auction, including recruiting more corporate donations</li> <li>11. Match the travel funds raised during the Silent Auction, doubling the number of evaluators from developing countries AEA supports</li> <li>12. Offer access to AEA online services to selected evaluators outside the USA (price/promotion to be determined by management)</li> <li>13. Offer relevant topics to be featured in AEA's e-studies programs (increase access by offering at different times to accommodate time zones)</li> </ol>