1,600+ fiber professionals from all parts of North America and across the globe

150+ exhibiting companies showcasing the latest products, solutions, and technology

50+ best-in-class education sessions presented by leading fiber professionals

1 location where you can achieve your goals – under one roof, at one time!

WHO'S WHO

87% have a role in purchasing at their company

87% would recommend the Fiber Connect to a colleague

78% are likely to purchase products from companies they met in the expo hall

52% are director level or higher, including vice president, president, and C-level executive

My coworkers and I were able to network and learn like never before. We found answers to several road blocks we currently had while exploring the expo hall and speaking directly with the product sales teams.

– David Chase, Director of Operations,
Tel-Star Communications, Inc.

Meeting vendors is one of the top three reasons for attending the Fiber Connect
