

This is a detailed street map of a residential neighborhood in Berlin. The map shows a grid-like pattern of streets including Vandalenstraße, Preußenstraße, Gelsenkircher Straße, and others. Building footprints are shown in light grey, while green spaces and parks are highlighted in various shades of green. A scale bar at the bottom left indicates distances up to 150 meters. A QR code is located in the bottom right corner. The map also features several circular icons, likely representing specific points of interest or landmarks.
