PART I: INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

Florence County is organized in accordance with the Council Administrator form of government under the Home Rule Act of 1975. The County provides a full array of services to a population of approximately 138,000. Florence County is governed by a nine member County Council, which is responsible for setting County operating policies, creating needed ordinances, and with balancing the County's annual budget. The County Administrator is the chief administrative officer for the county. The County employs approximately 750 persons on a permanent full time basis.

The County's accounting system is organized and operated on a fund basis. Funds are maintained using a modified accrual system. Revenues are recorded as received or accrued if they are both measurable and available to finance expenditures of the fiscal period. The accounting records for the Enterprise funds are maintained on the accrual method. The County established a fixed asset account group in 1989 to establish accountability for the County's general fixed assets. The County Administrator establishes the budgeted revenue and expenditures, using the basis of accounting that is appropriate for the fund involved. Appropriations are made by Council. Encumbrance accounting is used to provide management control, and is integrated into the budgetary reporting process. Outstanding encumbrances at year-end are considered as expenditures for budgetary purposes and as reservations of fund balance in the Governmental fund types where they do not constitute accrued expenditures. The County has a fully computerized integrated general ledger system with all funds having equity in a centralized cash management system. The Treasurer invests funds held in this cash management system. The County utilizes the computer system for on-line collection of taxes, ambulance bills, and other fees that are automatically posted to the general ledger. The computer is an IBM AS/400 with approximately 200 peripherals.
