On the Waves of Db2 12 for z/OS

Emil Kotrc

Just recently, I came across a video on YouTube about catching the early wave of Db2 12. As you may have already heard there are many new features available in Db2 12, such as faster analytical insights with advanced "in- memory" technology. Coupled with the new technology IBM announced continuous delivery of functionality which means that you will get new functions in incremental updates and it is up to you if you activate new functions or not -- you'll have such flexibility. I believe that both DBAs and application developers will benefit from this. Read the full article.
