

Mass/Conn United and Western Mass Wizards Create Affiliation

March 27, 2018 - Springfield, Massachusetts —Beginning with the 2018-'19 season, the Western Mass Wizards will be affiliated with Mass/Conn United (M/CU); a local sports organization committed to delivering the most comprehensive club hockey program available to area youth. The Wizards will operate as an independent organization and will continue to offer a budget-conscious option for its families.

The Wizards will field teams from birth year 2006 to U16 Half Season Midgets and will compete at the competitive AAA level traveling throughout Western New England and eastern New York for games, with practices taking place at rinks in Western Massachusetts and Northern Connecticut. By joining Mass/Conn United, Western Mass Wizards players will receive the same discounted offerings at the new Mass/Conn United Training Center afforded all M/CU players.

Mass/Conn United's boys' full-travel teams — Connecticut Jr. Huskies, Springfield Jr. Thunderbirds and New England Jr. Falcons — play in the prestigious Eastern Hockey Federation (EHF) and Eastern Minor Hockey League (EMHL). Their girls' teams — Connecticut Jr. Huskies and Springfield Jr. Thunderbirds — compete in the New England Girls Hockey League (NEGHL), the country's top girls league.

Mass/Conn United provides a qualified, professional staff to instruct players and offer programs that are designed for M/CU prides itself on providing quality programming in a safe, fun environment conducive to personal growth and development. All teams, regardless of level, are structured to provide players with the opportunity for individual growth and preparation for success on the ice and in life.
