Detroit Catholic Central (7-4) at Canton (10-1):

Canton is riding the momentum of a 10-game winning streak and should be loaded with confidence following its 28-25 upset of No. 1 Belleville on the road last Friday.

Look for Canton's explosive running game to play at a high level, especially with Catholic Central's talented linebacker Isaac Darkangelo sidelined by an injury.

Expect Canton senior linebacker Lou Baechler to continue his strong play despite playing with a cast on his broken arm. He returned an interception for a TD in the pre-district win over Saline, then caught the winning TD pass on fourth down against Belleville.

Pick: Canton by 8.
