

Statistician and spotters

The statistician and spotter work together to track the desired statistics for the team. Check with your coach before the beginning of the season to determine which statistics he/she wants collected.

Both the statistician and spotter should be on the sideline 25 minutes before the start of each game.

The spotter's key role is to keep eyes on the ball and action at all times and call out the team name, player number and appropriate statistic, e.g., Davis, 19, ground ball.

The statistician records the activity by tick marking the number in a cell corresponding to the player and statistic being noted or for the opponent in the appropriate cell. As time permits the statistician also watches the game for recordable statistics. The statistician will load the statistics on the Davis Lacrosse website after each game.

The statistician should echo each call made by the spotter to make sure they are hearing and recording correctly.

Both the statistician and spotter should be familiar with the following documents. To save time, statisticians should come to each game with the Davis roster already put into the collection sheet.
