On behalf of the Medical Library Association (MLA), the 2017 National Program Committee (NPC), and the Local Assistance Committee (LAC), we invite you to come to Seattle from May 26–31, 2017, to Dream. Dare. Do. We have worked to plan an inspiring meeting that will encourage everyone to dream of new ways to deliver information and services and provide us with daring ideas that we can take home and do for our local constituencies.

MLA members gathered in Seattle in 2012 for an excellent meeting in this exciting location. This year, we hope you will enjoy the new and improved Seattle. Both the Sheraton Seattle Hotel and the Washington State Convention Center are remodeled and renovated. There is easy access between the Sheraton and the convention center, which are just across the street from each other.

Seattle is a city of incredible sights, flavors, scents, sounds, and sensations that inspire locals and travelers alike to Dream. Dare. Do. in all that Seattle has to offer. Seattle is located in the beautiful Pacific Northwest, surrounded by the water, mountains, and evergreen forests of the Puget Sound region. Known as the “Emerald City,” Seattle stays green and cool over Memorial Day weekend and offers many events, festivals, sports, and outdoor recreation. The Seattle International Film Festival, America’s most highly attended film festival, runs May 18–June 11, 2017.

The Dream. Dare. Do. theme reflects the entrepreneurial spirit of Seattle and the Pacific Northwest. Meeting exhibitors, featured speakers, over 200 contributed papers, lightning talks, and special content sessions, as well as 240 posters, promise to do the same.

The MLA planning groups look forward to seeing you in Seattle to Dream. Dare. Do!

Featured Speakers

Sunday, May 28, 10:30 a.m.–11:55 a.m.

John P. McGovern Award Lecturer:
Julie Angus
Sponsored by EBSCO Health

“Rowing Across the Atlantic: Strategies to Reach Your Goals”

Julie Angus is an accomplished adventurer, best-selling author, and scientist. She is the first woman to row across the Atlantic Ocean from mainland to mainland and a recipient of the National Geographic Adventurer of the Year award. She has also cycled across continents, rowed thousands of kilometers of coastlines and rivers, and organized a National Geographic expedition that sailed ancient Phoenician trading routes. Explore Magazine listed her as one of North America’s leading adventurers, and she is regularly seen on television shows such as Canada AM, CBC News Sunday, and Daily Planet. She is an engaging and entertaining speaker who inspires audiences and demonstrates techniques everyone can use to reach goals and overcome challenges.

Monday, May 29, 9:00 a.m.–10:00 a.m.

Janet Doe Lecturer:
Julia F. Sollenberger, AHIP, FMLA

Julia F. Sollenberger, AHIP, FMLA, is associate vice president and director, Medical Center Libraries and Technologies, and associate professor, Public Health Sciences, at the University of Rochester Medical Center, Rochester, NY. She has worked at the University of Rochester since 1980 in successively more responsible positions but began her career at the National Library of Medicine as an Associate Fellow. Sollenberger has a notable record of publications, having authored numerous articles, book chapters, presentations, and posters. She has held leadership positions in a variety of professional associations, at local, regional, and national levels, including president of the Association of Academic Health Sciences Libraries and member of the MLA Board of Directors. Sollenberger has received several awards, including the MLA Estelle Brodman Award for the Academic Medical Librarian of the Year and the National Institutes of Health Award of Merit. In 2005, she became an MLA Fellow.

Sollenberger participated in the original 1992 Rochester Study on the value of hospital libraries, and she served as chair of the Planning Team for the multisite study of the value of information in patient care (the Value Study). Results of this study were published in the January 2013 issue of the Journal of the Medical Library Association, and the article received MLA’s 2014 Ida and George Eliot Prize. Sollenberger has also been involved in leadership training for more than a decade, twice participating as a mentor in the National Library of Medicine/Association of Academic Health Sciences Libraries (AAHSL) Leadership Fellows program and serving as chair of the AAHSL Future Leadership Committee.

Wednesday, May 31, 9:00 a.m.–10:00 a.m.

Joseph Leiter NLM/MLA Lecturer:
Patricia Flatley Brennan

Patricia Flatley Brennan, director of the National Library of Medicine (NLM), is the first nurse and first female to serve as permanent head of the library in its 180-year history. Brennan came to NLM from the University of Wisconsin–Madison, where she was the Lillian L. Moehlman Bascom Professor, School of Nursing and College of Engineering, and led the Living Environments Laboratory (wid.wisc.edu/research/lel/) at the Wisconsin Institute for Discovery (wid.wisc.edu). Her pioneering research in the use of information technology to support patients and caregivers has been funded by the National Institutes of Health, the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality, and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, among others. Brennan is a past president of the American Medical Informatics Association, a member of the National Academy of Medicine, and a fellow of the American College of Medical Informatics, the American Academy of Nursing, and the New York Academy of Medicine.

Brennan received a bachelor of science degree in nursing from the University of Delaware, a master of science degree in nursing from the University of Pennsylvania, and a doctoral degree in industrial engineering from the University of Wisconsin–Madison. Following seven years of clinical practice in critical care nursing and psychiatric nursing, she held several academic positions at Marquette University, Milwaukee, WI; Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland, OH; and the University of Wisconsin–Madison. In addition, she spent a year at NLM in 2002 to 2003 as a visiting senior scientist at the Lister Hill National Center for Biomedical Communications.

Wednesday, May 31, 10:30 a.m.–noon

Plenary Session 5 Speaker:
Hope Jahren

Hope Jahren is an award-winning scientist who has been pursuing independent research in paleobiology since 1996, when she completed her doctorate at the University of California–Berkeley and began teaching and researching, first at the Georgia Institute of Technology and then at Johns Hopkins University. She has received three Fulbright Awards and is one of four scientists, and the only woman, to have been awarded both of the Young Investigator Medals given in the earth sciences. Currently, she is a tenured professor at the University of Hawaii–Mānoa in Honolulu, where in 2008, she built the Isotope Geobiology Laboratories, with support from the National Science Foundation, the Department of Energy, and the National Institutes of Health.
About MLA ’17
MLA ’17 is where thought leaders, health information professionals, excellent education, exhibits, and networking come together for you to learn new information and create new connections.

Register online (www.mlanet.org/mla17) or use the form on page 23. Book your hotel room at the official hotel (page 28). Staying in the official hotel provides the best networking and saves money by lowering meeting costs.

With the online planner (sponsored by Wolters Kluwer) or mobile app (sponsored by Elsevier-ClinicalKey), you can view the schedule of events, abstracts, and presentation details in real time. You can also view speaker photos, biographies, video references, audio presentations, handouts, slides, list of attendees, and exhibitors. Use the planner to create a custom meeting agenda that best meets your needs.

Online Meeting Content (sponsored by Wolters Kluwer): View video of featured speakers and audio for papers and lightning talks synchronized with slides. See and interact with the 200+ posters in the online poster gallery. Global search tools help you navigate. Online tools and content are included with your conference or e-conference registration.

First-Time Attendees
Sunday, May 28
7:00 a.m.–8:55 a.m.
New Members/First-Time Attendees Program and Breakfast
Sponsored by Wolters Kluwer
Invited Event.
Are you a new MLA member or an MLA member attending your first MLA annual meeting? To receive an invitation to the event, please check the new member box on the registration form. Invitations will be emailed about four weeks before the meeting. You must RSVP to gain admittance.

Colleague Connection
Colleague Connection pairs first-time attendees with experienced members. If this is your first MLA meeting or if you’d like to help a newer member maneuver the meeting, please contact Tomi Gunn at gunn@mail.mlahq.org by Monday, May 1. Once assigned, pairs work out their own meeting schedules.

A theater-style setting is open for exhibitor presentations of the latest technologies. Running throughout the day, these sessions are an opportunity for attendees to get a first look at new technology.
Continuing Education Courses

Registration and Fees
Registration is handled on a first-come, first-served basis, and no waiting lists are maintained. You may select first- and second-choice continuing education (CE) courses on the registration form. Fees are based on first-choice selections. You do not have to register for the meeting to register for MLA ’17 courses. Room assignments will be listed in the Official Program. Some instructors have established a maximum attendance size, so don’t delay. Register online now or use the registration form on page 23.

- Nonmember rate includes 1-year introductory membership to MLA
- Student fee, pending available space: $50
- Cancellation or course change fee: $50 per course (see page 22 for refund policy and deadlines).

Participant handouts for CE courses will be made available electronically. Attendees will be required to print their own set of handouts to bring along to the course. MLA will send out a confirmation prior to the CE course if you are required to print and bring your own handouts.

Cost: $320 (nonmember: $570)
Attendance maximum: 30
How do you position yourself for leadership opportunities? What is your leadership style? How should you approach difficult conversations? How do you harness excellence from your team? How do you measure success? Through this highly interactive, energetic, and reflective course, you will develop a personal leadership plan designed to add value to your team, your institution, your career, and your personal growth.

Instructors: Lindsay Alcock, Head, Public Services, Health Sciences Library, Memorial University of Newfoundland–St. John’s, Canada; Kelly Thormodson, Interim Director, Harley E. French Library of the Health Sciences, School of Medicine and Health Sciences, University of North Dakota–Grand Forks; Diana Delgado, AHIP, Associate Director, User Support, Research & Education, Samuel J. Wood Library, Weill Cornell Medicine, New York, NY; and Martin Wood, AHIP, Assistant Director, Maguire Medical Library, Florida State University College of Medicine–Tallahassee

CE300  Advanced Searching Techniques and Advanced Strategy Design
Cost: $400 (nonmember: $700)
Attendance maximum: 24
Explore issues around search design and techniques for undertaking literature searches of complex topics to inform high-quality comparative effectiveness research, systematic reviews, guideline development, and other major projects. Learn new techniques and software tools for developing search strategies, best approaches to search design including search term identification and concept development, insights into search design for complex questions, and variations in current best practice.
Instructors: Carol Lefebvre, HonFCLIP, Independent Information Consultant, Lefebvre Associates, Oxford, United Kingdom, and Mick Arber, Senior Information Specialist, York Health Economics Consortium, Enterprise House, University of York, York, United Kingdom

CE600  Instructional Design: Proven Principles and Practices for Librarians Who Teach
Cost: $320 (nonmember: $570)
Attendance maximum: 25
This is an interactive course for librarians who are new to teaching or who have experience, who are seeking best practices, or who would like to strengthen and refresh their instruction. Through small group work, individual exercises, group discussion, and lecture, you will learn how to apply proven principles, theories, and practices when designing effective instruction to actively engage learners.

CE700  Research Design and Data Analysis
Cost: $400 (nonmember: $700)
Attendance maximum: 25
Do you know how to design a survey to answer your research questions? Do statistics and data analysis make you nervous? This CE course will help you understand the research design process with practical examples and teach you how to analyze data by using various data analysis tools.
Instructors: Jin Wu, Emerging Technologies Librarian, Norris Medical Library, University of Southern California–Los Angeles, and Lili Luo, Associate Professor, School of Information, San Jose State University, San Jose, CA

CE701  Sequences and Structures: An Introduction to Key Bioinformatics Tools
Cost: $400 (nonmember: $700)
Attendance maximum: 20
This course will provide an introduction to bioinformatics databases, then focus specifically on two key techniques: sequence similarity searching and molecular structure viewing. Participants will learn how to locate high-quality bioinformatics resources online, how the Basic Local Alignment Sequence Tool (BLAST) programs function, and how to view and manipulate molecular structures.
Instructor: Jennifer A. Lyon, AHIP, Biomedical and Translational Research Librarian, Health Sciences Center Library, Health Sciences Center, Stony Brook University, Stony Brook, NY

CE702  Introduction to Systematic Reviews for Librarians
Cost: $320 (nonmember: $570)
Attendance maximum: 20
We will present what the current state of systematic reviews methods is, how systematic reviews are different from other types of reviews, and what their potential applications are. Activities and discussions will cover how to conduct a reference interview, determine feasibility of a research question, build search strategies, and report methods specific to systematic reviews.
Instructors: Margaret J. Foster, AHIP, Associate Professor and Systematic Reviews and Research Coordinator, Medical Sciences Library, Texas A&M University–College Station, and Susan Fowler, Coordinator, Systematic Reviews, Becker Medical Library, Washington University, St. Louis, MO

1:00 p.m.–5:00 p.m.

CE100  Engaging Assessment to Show Value and Make Decisions: Making the Case for Your Library
Cost: $265 (nonmember: $490)
Attendance maximum: 30
As libraries are increasingly asked to demonstrate their contributions to their institutions, library staff need efficient and effective assessment strategies. The workshop presents a systematic approach to developing and assessing library activities, including identifying impact outcomes and aligned activities, establishing criteria, collecting and analyzing evidence, and using the results.
Instructor: Lisa Janicke Hinchliffe, Professor and Coordinator, Information Literacy Services and Instruction, University Library, University of Illinois–Urbana

CE200  Maintain Momentum in Marketing
Cost: $265 (nonmember: $490)
Attendance maximum: 25
This course will focus on planning strategic marketing campaigns. We will talk about how to create and implement a campaign, establish goals and objectives, identify key messages and audiences, and use appropriate strategies and tools. We will talk about the value of the library brand, social media tools, budgeting, and evaluation.
Instructors: Patricia Baker, Assistant Professor, Lister Hill Library of the Health Sciences, University of Alabama–Birmingham, and Valerie St. Pierre Gordon, AHIP, retired, Birmingham, AL

CE401  Flip Don't Flop: Flipped Classroom Approaches for Library Instruction
Cost: $345 (nonmember: $615)
Attendance maximum: 25
The flipped classroom model is turning education around! Now it’s time to flip library instruction. Flipped learning methods transform class time into a learning lab, providing students with the opportunity to go in-depth on activities and gain feedback from instructors. Successful flipped learning takes many shapes, but often informative videos or tutorials are used to get students moving on research activities. This class provides an overview of flipped learning with specific examples from medical and science classrooms. This class also provides an introduction to flipped classroom planning and an overview of technology tools that can be used to simplify the process. Take your library instruction to the next level by learning the ins and outs of flipping your classroom!
Instructor: Emily J. Hurst, AHIP, Head, Research and Education, Tompkins-McCaw Library for the Health Sciences, Virginia Commonwealth University–Richmond
8:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.

CE301 Becoming an Expert Searcher
Cost: $445 (nonmember: $765)
Attendance maximum: 24
What does it take to be an expert searcher? What knowledge and skills do you need? We will examine these questions and learn (and practice) methods used by expert searchers. Learn some advanced search techniques for PubMed and create a self-study plan to hone your skills.
Instructor: Terry Ann Jankowski, AHIP, FMLA, Librarian Emerita, Health Sciences Library, University of Washington–Seattle

CE303 Complementary, Alternative, and Integrative Health for the Consumer: A Primer for Librarians
Cost: $345 (nonmember: $615)
Attendance maximum: 15
Complementary and alternative medicine (CAM) can range from quackery to proven therapies. This class follows the history of CAM to the current trend toward integrating complementary approaches with conventional medicine. Hands-on exercises and activities will provide attendees with critical evaluation skills and practical experience for finding evidence-based information in consumer and professional-level resources.
Instructor: Kelli Ham, Consumer Health Librarian, National Network of Libraries of Medicine, Pacific Southwest Region, UCLA Louise M. Darling Biomedical Library, Center for the Health Sciences, University of California–Los Angeles

10:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m.

CE202 Creating Influence: How to Get What You Want
Cost: $320 (nonmember: $570)
Attendance maximum: 30
Librarians know what we do is indispensable; the trick is to make the powers that be believe that we are indispensable. This class, taught by a librarian and a business and leadership coach, will show you how to combine librarianship with proven business techniques to create influence in your institution.
Instructors: Lisa K. Traditi, AHIP, Head, Education and Reference, and Associate Professor, Health Sciences Library, Anschutz Medical Campus, University of Colorado–Aurora, and Frank Traditi, Sales Learning Manager, XO Communications, Lone Tree, CO

CE302 Searching ClinicalTrials.gov, the World Health Organization Portal (ICTRP), and Regulatory Agency Websites to Identify Clinical Trials for Systematic Reviews and Other Clinical and Research Questions
Cost: $400 (nonmember: $700)
Attendance maximum: 20
Increasing interest in and awareness of the importance of clinical trials and their results have seen the development of a large number of trials registers and trials results registers. This course will highlight key trials registers and trials results registers, including ClinicalTrials.gov, the World Health Organization’s International Clinical Trials Registry Platform (ICTRP), and industry registers, and will offer practical advice on searching registers and managing register records.
Instructors: Carol Lefebvre, HonFCLIP, Independent Information Consultant, Lefebvre Associates, Oxford, United Kingdom, and Mick Arber, Senior Information Specialist, York Health Economics Consortium, Enterprise House, University of York, York, United Kingdom

8:00 a.m.–noon

CE101 Accelerating Innovation through Information Tools and Expertise
Cost: $265 (nonmember: $490)
Innovation and information are a natural duo. Instructors will share how librarians can get involved with institutional innovation initiatives, such as medical device development, games, health care apps, and innovative publishing outlets. Librarians can be involved throughout the entire innovation process.
Instructors: Tallie Casucci, Innovation Librarian, Spencer S. Eccles Health Sciences Library, University of Utah–Salt Lake City, and Jean P. Shipman, AHIP, FMLA, Librarian and Director, Spencer S. Eccles Health Sciences Library, Clifford C. Snyder Endowed Chair and Director, MidContinental Region and National Training Office, National Network of Libraries of Medicine, Director, Information Transfer, Center for Medical Innovation, and Adjunct Professor, Department of Biomedical Informatics, School of Medicine, University of Utah–Salt Lake City

CE303 Perspectives in Research Data Management
Cost: $265 (nonmember: $490)
Rapid changes in funder and publisher requirements are creating opportunities for librarians to play a key role in research data management. This class provides an introduction to best practices and library roles in research data management, a case study, and an opportunity to develop strategies for initiating data services.
Instructors: Alisa Surkis, Translational Science Librarian and Head, Data Services, and Kevin Read, Knowledge Management Librarian, NYU Health Sciences Library, New York University School of Medicine–New York

CE703 Evidence-Based Medicine (EBM)/Evidence-Based Practice (EBP): The Basics: Study Design and Randomized Controlled Trials
Cost: $265 (nonmember: $490)
Attendance maximum: 30
Get a basic understanding of clinical research literacy. This engaging course will give learners an introduction to evidence-based research by exploring what the different study designs are in clinical medicine, what types of questions they address, how they are conducted, and what their strengths and weaknesses are. The course will also look more closely at a randomized controlled trial and discuss the criteria used to critically appraise the methodology—a first step in determining if the results are useful.
Instructor: Connie Schardt, AHIP, FMLA, Adjunct Faculty, School of Information and Library Science, University of North Carolina–Chapel Hill

CE704 Practical Skills and Tips for Research: From Proposal to Presentation
Cost: $265 (nonmember: $490)
Attendance maximum: 30
This course will give participants practical tips and tools to complete a research project while still doing their day jobs. Taking a workshop approach, this course will allow participants to prepare and plan on completing a research project with actionable steps to move forward at their libraries.

Instructors: Skye Bickett, AHIP, Assistant Director, Library Services, Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine–Georgia Campus, Suwanee, GA; and Christine Willis, Director, Knowledge Management and Learning Resources, Shepherd Center, Atlanta, GA

| CE102 Your Role in Achieving Magnet Status and Continuing Support of Nursing Research |
| Cost: $265 (nonmember: $490) |
| Magnet Status is a must. Invest in this course to review what Magnet Status entails, and plan to position yourself to demonstrate your added value to the Magnet Status “go-getters.” Also, come to strategize your role once Magnet Status is obtained and reinforce searching in an evidence-based nursing way. |
| Instructor: Helen-Ann Brown Epstein, AHIP, FMLA, Informationist, Health Sciences Library, Virtua Center for Learning, Mt Laurel, NJ |

| CE304 Providing Bibliometrics Services in Medical Libraries: Why, What, and How? |
| Cost: $345 (nonmember: $615) |
| Attendance maximum: 30 |
| Come to learn about how to conduct bibliometric analyses and how to work with different data sets for different purposes. Specifically, learners will be able to use bibliometrics to: |
| - conduct basic bibliometric analysis |
| - create collaboration visualizations |
| - identify research topics in large datasets |
| Instructors: Ya-Ling Lu, Informationist, and Christopher Belter, Bibliometrics Informationist, NIH Library, Division of Library Services, Office of Research Services, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, MD |

| CE305 Reduce, Refine, Replace: Strategies for Animal Alternative Searches |
| Cost: $345 (nonmember: $615) |
| Attendance maximum: 20 |
| This course explains the law, procedures, and reporting involved in meeting the requirements of institutional animal care and use committees (IACUCs) at academic research institutions, and how librarians contribute to the process. Participants will gain hands-on experience with the animal research process, including critically reading a real-life scientific research protocol and using the terms in the protocol to search multiple research databases. Participants will leave with a greater understanding of search terms and controlled vocabulary used in animal welfare searches, as well as a worksheet template they can use in reporting animal alternative searches to their offices of research. |
| Instructors: Adele Dobry, Subject Specialist, Carlson Health Sciences Library, University of California–Davis, and Maureen (Molly) Knapp, AHIP, Training Development Specialist, NN/LM National Training Office, National Network of Libraries of Medicine, Spencer S. Eccles Health Sciences Library, University of Utah–Salt Lake City |

| CE401 Developing a Systematic Review Service |
| Cost: $265 (nonmember: $490) |
| This course explores strategies for developing or formalizing library activities that support systematic review research into a deliberate systematic review service. Drawing from the library literature and case studies, the course will cover topics including estimating service needs and potential uptake, planning and designing your service, developing content and tools to facilitate service delivery, and marketing and evaluating the service. This course is designed to be highly interactive, utilizing exercises, brainstorming activities, and group discussions that allow participants to problem-solve and share some of their own experiences. Previous or current library involvement in supporting systematic reviews is not required, although a general understanding of literature searching practices and library roles in supporting systematic reviews will benefit participants. |
| Instructor: Amanda Ross-White, AHIP, Health Sciences Librarian (Nursing), and Sandra McKeown, Health Sciences Librarian, Bracken Health Sciences Library, Queen’s University, Kingston, ON, Canada |

| CE402 Coming to TERMS with Electronic Resource Management |
| Cost: $265 (nonmember: $490) |
| Attendance maximum: 25 |
| Using the Techniques for Electronic Resource Management (TERMS) framework, this class will focus on the selection, acquisition, licensing, accessibility, linking, branding, and evaluation of licensed electronic resources in a library setting. Management of various e-content types—including books, serials, databases, multimedia, and citation indexes—will be covered as well as tools used to manage the administrative metadata for electronic resources. Trends and issues related to managing licensed electronic resources—such as licensing, copyright, open access publishing, and purchasing models—will be discussed. |
| Instructor: Christy Jarvis, AHIP, Head, Information Resources and Digital Initiatives, Spencer S. Eccles Health Sciences Library, University of Utah–Salt Lake City |

| CE602 How to Have Fun Teaching with Technology |
| Cost: $265 (nonmember: $490) |
| Attendance maximum: 16 |
| Know a little bit about teaching and technology? Want to learn more? Come learn about best practices for translating in-person instruction sessions into synchronous and asynchronous online instruction tools. Then, get hands-on experience with multiple instructional design platforms (Adobe Connect, Articulate Storyline, Guide on the Side, and Eduventure). |
| Instructor: Molly Higgins, Health Sciences Librarian, Health Sciences Library, Stony Brook University, Stony Brook, NY |
Register at www.mlanet.org

8:00 a.m.–10:00 a.m.

CE403 Open Access Publishing Models and Predatory Journals in PubMed and Beyond

Cost: $130 (nonmember: $285)

With the surge of open access publishers, the number of exploitative journals has also expanded. Learn about current open access publishing models, review criteria and tools to differentiate scholarly open access journals from predatory ones, and discover search tips to locate credible open access research.

Instructors: Carolann Lee Curry, Reference and Outreach Librarian, and Anna Krampl, AHIP, Head, Public Services, Medical Library, Mercer University School of Medicine, Macon, GA

CE500 Take Two Apps and Call Me in the Morning: Mobile Applications for Health and Wellness

Cost: $130 (nonmember: $285)

Mobile applications are connecting more patients to health and wellness information, but how can librarians help patients navigate the growing field of wellness applications? Across all mobile platforms, health and wellness applications are some of the most popular and most frequently downloaded. By better understanding how to evaluate applications, librarians can help patients and patrons make informed decisions about the apps that they choose to download. This class will focus on understanding how to evaluate apps and provide information about recommended apps.

Instructor: Emily J. Hurst, AHIP, Head, Research and Education, Tompkins-McCaw Library for the Health Sciences, Virginia Commonwealth University–Richmond

Saturday, May 27, Symposium

1:00 p.m.–5:00 p.m.

CE800 The Librarian's Role in Reproducibility of Research Symposium

Cost: $245 (nonmember: $370)

MLA CE contact hours: 4

Sponsored by the Public Health/Health Administration Section, Leadership and Management Section, Pharmacy and Drug Information Section, Medical Informatics Section, Cancer Librarians Section, Medical Library Education Section, Medical Library Education Section, Veterinary Medical Libraries Section, and Journal of Visualized Experiments (JoVE)

Reproducibility of research refers to the ability to reproduce an experiment or research design in the same target population with the same outcome as the original research. Reproducible research is unbiased, reduces retractions in the scientific literature, and ensures best practices in clinical trials. Ideally, all biomedical and scientific research is inherently rigorous. However, critics argue that a majority of research conclusions are untrue or cannot be reproduced. With the rise in submissions to PubMed Central making research more publicly accessible, it is a question of “when, not if” this issue will come to the forefront.

This half-day symposium will educate attendees about the important roles for librarians and information professionals at their home institutions to raise awareness about and support research reproducibility. At the conclusion of the event, attendees will better understand the basics of reproducibility and be empowered to create strategies for finding partners and getting involved in reproducibility of research at their individual institutions.

Keynote Speaker

Shona Kirtley, Senior Research Information Specialist, EQUATOR Network at the Centre for Statistics in Medicine, University of Oxford, Oxford, United Kingdom, has wide-ranging experience in the provision of evidence-based health information, in literature searching to support systematic reviews and other research studies, and in standards and guidelines for reporting research. She has a keen interest in accurate and transparent reporting of biomedical research studies, global health issues, and health information provision and access in low and middle income countries. Kirtley writes a monthly international column for BJOG: An International Journal of Obstetrics and Gynecology and has authored and coauthored papers published in a variety of journals. One of her most recognized papers, published in the Lancet, sets out her passionately held belief that biomedical librarians could and should be recognized as essential contributors to global efforts to reduce biomedical research waste. This includes librarian-led collaborations to improve conducting and reporting biomedical research, ensure research reproducibility, and improve journal publication practices.

Panel Speakers

A panel of invited speakers will provide their perspectives based on the roles they play in their institutions.

Registration Packages

All registrants will have online access to recordings of most meeting sessions. Posters will be live online a few weeks prior to the meeting.

Package A: Meeting Registration
Includes admission to all sessions, exhibits, the Welcome Reception, and the Presidents’ Awards Dinner.

Package B: Conference only
Includes admission to all sessions, exhibits, and the Welcome Reception.

Package C: One-Day Registration
Includes admission to all sessions and exhibits on a specific day, with the exception of ticketed events. On the registration form, indicate the day you wish to attend.

Package D: Individual e-Conference
Members who cannot travel to the meeting can still be part of the meeting community via online access.

Package E: Institutional e-Conference License
Institutional Members: $500
Non-MLA Institutional Members: $750
Contact MLA Financial Services, Ray Naegele, naegele@mail.mlahq.org or 312.419.9094 x17. See MLANET for the site license form.

Exhibits-only
Exhibits-only allows entry only to the Hall of Exhibits from Sunday to Tuesday for spouses, significant others, and persons working outside the profession. It does not provide admission to the Saturday Welcome Reception, plenary sessions, or meeting programming or access to online meeting content. Exhibit-only passes are sold onsite at the MLA Registration Desk for $50.
Confirmations

If you register online, you will receive a confirmation by email within minutes. If you register by mail or fax, allow 5 days after receipt for an email confirmation. If an email address is invalid or missing, allow 2 weeks for a mailed confirmation. Please bring your confirmation letter with you to the MLA Registration Desk.

Member Discount

MLA members in good standing are eligible for discounted member rates. To qualify for member rates, MLA membership for 2017 must be paid by March 31, 2017. Nonmembers may join at www.mlanet.org/page/join-mla. Members of the following groups qualify for MLA member registration rates:

- American Association of Law Libraries (AALL)
- Arbeitsgemeinschaft für Medizinisches Bibliothekswesen (AGMB) [German Medical Library Group]
- Association for Health Information and Libraries in Africa (AHILA)
- Association for Library and Information Science Education (ALISE)
- Australian Library and Information Association (ALIA)
- Canadian Health Libraries Association/Association des bibliothèques de la santé du Canada (CHLA/ABSC)
- European Association for Health Information and Libraries (EAHIL)
- Japan Medical Library Association (JMLA)
- Korean Medical Library Association (KMLA)
- Medical Library Association of Nigeria
- Special Libraries Association (SLA)
- Taiwan Medical Library Association (TMLA)

Student Discount

You qualify for student rates if you hold student membership in MLA. Student members also qualify for continuing education courses (CE) and symposia for only $50 each, pending available space. You may join MLA as a student member when you register online or complete the membership form online at www.mlanet.org/page/join-mla.

Special Services

If you have a legal disability or dietary requirements, please include a written description of your needs with the registration form. Describe your needs and include an email address or fax number where you can be contacted for more information. MLA must receive the form by April 15.

Children

All children must have badges. Complimentary badges are available at the MLA Registration Desk. Children under thirteen are not permitted in the exhibit hall. Information about child care will be available at www.mlanet.org/mla17.

Cancellations

All cancellations for meeting registration and CE courses must be submitted in writing and faxed to MLA Registration at 312.419.8950.

Meeting cancellations received by April 19, 2017, are subject to a $50 fee. You will be assessed a $50 fee for each CE course change or cancellation.

After April 19, 2017, MLA will give refunds only for documented medical emergencies. Refunds will be processed within six weeks after the meeting. MLA will honor written requests to transfer meeting registration or CE registration to another person without charge.

Questions: Staff are happy to help. For registration and meeting-related questions, please email MedicalLibrary@xpressreg.net or call 774.247.4013, Monday–Friday, 9:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m., eastern time. Travel to Seattle
Seattle is accessible by air via Seattle-Tacoma Airport (Sea-Tac). The airport is 14 miles (20–25 minutes) from the Washington State Convention Center.

Air Travel
MLA has arranged for discounted travel on United Airlines. Use the instructions below for a discount (2%–10%, depending on zone) on United Airlines for travel May 23, 2017–June 3, 2017.

• US 50 states and Canada Customers: call your professional travel agency, book online via united.com, or call the United Reservations Meetings Desk at 800.426.1122 and provide the Z Code ZXRT and Agreement Code 692047. For all tickets issued through United Meetings Reservations Desk, there will be a booking service fee collected per ticket. This fee is subject to change without notice. The service fee is nonrefundable and applies to all itineraries, one-way or round-trip.
• Outside of the United States, please call your local United Airlines Reservation Office.

Ground Transportation to and from the Airport

Taxi, Shuttle, and Rail Service

• Taxi fare is $45–$50 from Sea-Tac Airport, and the trip will take about 20 minutes.

• SpeediShuttle Seattle provides shared ride transportation in Mercedes shuttles at a rate of $15.99 one-way, $30.38 round-trip (10% discount on return leg when booked together), between Sea-Tac and the Sheraton Seattle Hotel. Registrants with prearranged arrival reservations are met in Sea-Tac’s baggage claim area by an agent holding a tablet with the name “MLA ’17,” then directed to their waiting shuttles. Vehicle amenities include complimentary WiFi, Speedi HDTV, seating for up to 11 guests, 6’1” headroom, 3-point seat restraints, adjustable headrests, roomy comfortable seats, and a large cargo area. To reserve your shuttle service, go to https://www.speedishuttleseattle.com/group-reservations?id=MLA5005.

• The Washington State Convention Center and Sheraton Seattle Hotel are accessible by light rail from Sea-Tac Airport. Exit Westlake Station. The fare is $2.75, and the travel time is about 35 minutes. For more information, go to m.soundtransit.org.

Car Rental
MLA has partnered with Avis to provide rental cars at a discounted rate. If you wish to reserve a car, please call 800.331.1600. Avis representatives can ensure that you maximize your rental dollars. Please mention AWD# D317028 when you call. Book online at: Avis Discount for Medical Library Association 2017 (https://goo.gl/ZaLxQj).
MLA books are excellent resources for librarians in health sciences, hospital, medical research practice, and other library settings. For practical guidance on topics that are relevant to your professional life, turn to MLA. Order at www.mlanet.org/page/books.

For the latest information on hotel availability, check online hotel reservations or contact onPeak by email (mla@onpeak.com) or telephone (800.243.1582).

Hotel Information

Do You Need a Hotel Discount with WiFi for MLA ‘17?

Reserve your hotel room at the official meeting hotel for discounted rates and free in-room WiFi. You get the best networking opportunities and help the association meet its contractual obligations. Don’t wait—make your reservation now. Hotel discounts end April 15, 2017, and are subject to limited availability.

Sheraton Seattle Hotel: $228 plus tax

Make your reservation with onPeak, the official hotel reservation service for MLA ‘17.

- Check online for current rates and availability (https://compass.onpeak.com/e/42MLA17).
- Call 800.243.1582. The best time to call is before noon or between 3:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m., central time.
- Email requests and questions to mla@onpeak.com. Expect a response within forty-eight hours, not counting weekends and holidays.

For travel information, see MLANET (www.mlanet.org/mla17).

Guarantee

You will need a valid credit card to make the reservation. A deposit equal to one night’s stay is required. There are no change fees, and no full prepayment required at the time of booking.

Cancellation

The deposit is refundable only if notice is received by the hotel at least seventy-two hours prior to arrival and a cancellation number is obtained.

Roommates

If you wish to split the room cost with other guests, please coordinate reservations with your roommates and then advise the hotel upon check in and check out. To locate a roommate, some members have used email discussion lists such as MEDLIB-L. Caution should always be exercised when selecting roommates.

MLA’s only official housing service is onPeak. If you are contacted by others offering housing for the meeting, please note that they are not affiliated with MLA. Entering into financial agreements with such companies can have adverse and costly consequences.

Are You Holding the Right Amount of Rooms and Room Nights for MLA ‘17?

Don’t sit on unneeded rooms and get caught with cancellation fees.

If you have already made your hotel reservations for MLA ‘17, and you might have reserved more rooms or days than you need, take a moment now to log back into your reservation. Update your room details to reflect how many nights and rooms you will really need to ensure that you do not get charged with any cancellation fees. Rooms that you give up get released back to the housing block for use by other attendees.
