Parksite Announces Specialists' of the Year

~Ed Osterhoudt & Wasyl Baszta Recognized for Professional Excellence ~

Batavia, Illinois – February 4, 2020 – Parksite, Inc. announces the selection of two 2019 Specialists' of the Year. Ed Osterhoudt, Building Product Specialist, is the Parksite 2019 Specialist of the Year, representing the DuPont™ Tyvek® product-line and Wasyl Baszta is the recipient of DuPont's coveted Tyvek® Residential Specialist of the Year. A Specialist provides building science and technical support to developers, general contractors and specifiers who use the family of DuPont products. Specialist services include CEU courses, specification writing, job observations and product installation training. "The award", stated Craig Wheatley, Director of Market Development, "was initially created by the DuPont organization to recognize an exceptional individual among all Specialists in the North American market. Because Parksite has over 60 Specialists, we wanted to take that same foundation and build upon it in our own organization and distinguish and honor individuals for their efforts, sales performance, and relationships in our network and industry. We are exceptionally proud of Ed and Waz, who were selected out of a network of 150 extremely talented and dedicated professionals."

Both were honored with the awards in conjunction with the DuPont™ Tyvek® Specialist Conference in Phoenix this month.

About Parksite
