HOW IT WORKS

The LeadingRE Heroes program is designed to reward those who serve us when buying or selling a home.

Must register on LeadingREHeroes.com/WallaceTN before contacting an agent.

No required mortgage lender—work with any lender you choose.

The program is open to military personnel, first responders, and other community heroes.

Agents may offer a reduction in commission—up to 20%—as a thank-you to eligible heroes. This reduction can lower costs for the buyer or seller (as applicable) and will vary based on the transaction and participating agent.

Reach out to Wallace Real Estate today to learn more about how we can help our heroes.

THE RIGHT AGENT

We understand that each client and situation is different. All members of our relocation team (60+ agents) are required to complete extensive annual training and bring their years of experience to tailor their service to your needs. These full-time, actively producing professionals must meet certain criteria for sales production and client satisfaction to qualify to serve our relocating clients.

Our agents are here to make each buying transaction as smooth as possible. We match buyers with the agent who is best-suited to meet your needs, and who will work diligently to achieve your goals and objectives. To welcome newcomers to East Tennessee, we offer a free copy of our relocation guide to help navigate your move.

In each selling transaction, our agents can assist you through the listing process, and successfully market your home to maximize your return on investment. With years of experience and access to advanced technology, our agents know the best marketing strategies to sell your home. Our agents establish a rapport with the seller to understand your needs and expectations, and then work to foster a smooth transition. Sellers are thoughtfully matched with one of our trained relocation-certified agents who will take you through the steps of the listing and selling process.

It's more than the confidence you'll have with a trusted agent by your side. Dedicated to serving their clients' best interests, our agents have the experience and reputation to deliver superior real estate service.
